HAYS, BIGELOW AND VERNER WITH ANDREW FULTON HOLD LONG CONFERENCE IN GOTHAM

Recorder and Other Citizens Leaders Escape Throng of Pittsburgh Office Seekers to Discuss Plans in New York.

WEARY BUT HOPEFUL OF FUTURE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, April 19.

W. B. Hays, recorder of Pittsburgh, arrived in New York at 8 o'clock this morning. He was driven to the Holland house, immediately went to his room and did not leave the Holland until 4 o'clock this afternoon. He then went direct to the Fifth Avenue hotel to confer with T. S. Bigelow who reached New York from Atlantic City on Thursday. There was a political conference in the apartments of Mr. Bigelow today.

The Gazette correspondent sent up his card to Mr. Bigelow at 6 o'clock this evening. Mr. Bigelow was engaged. Another attempt was made to see him at 10. He was very sorry, but extremely busy.

Murry A. Verner is at the Holland. Andrew Fulton, too, is here. He is at the Gilsey. This evening these leaders of the Citizens party were closeted with Hays and Bigelow.

Recorder Hays returned to the Holland house at 10:45 to-night. He said he was very well, but extremely tired. He looked it. He was exceedingly gracious to The Gazette correspondent, but absolutely refused to be interviewed.

"I am very much fatigued," said he, "and I am going to retire immediately."

The Gazette correspondent, however, asked the tired recorder: "Where does the appointment of J. A. Long, Recorder, as superintendent of the bureau of city property land A. J. Pitcairn? Where is he to be placed?"

The recorder was then entering the elevator. "Nothing doing in the interview line tonight," he said, and away shot the car.

Recorder Hays said he was in his present office to appoint good men, and he seemed very confident that his administration had started on a pathway in accord with the Citizens platform.

The recorder said he might have something to say later on on the fight for city clerk.

Murry A. Verner returned to the Holland at 11:15. He would not be interviewed. Fulton went to bed at midnight.

The conference at the Fifth avenue hotel was probably important. It certainly was long.

ENEMIES OF LABOR MAY LEARN LESSON OF SENATOR HANNA

Amalgamated President in Columbus Speech Eulogizes Ohio Statesman's Attitude Toward Workmen.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Columbus, O., April 19.—Theodore J. Shaffer, president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin workers, in an address to the organization at a meeting in this city today paid a high tribute to Senator Hanna and paid his respects to Messrs. Baer and Parry. His remarks struck a popular chord and he was cheered to the echo.

"Marcus A. Hanna, occupying as he does one of the highest official positions in our country," he said, "is one of the greatest leaders of organized labor we have. The greatest work that organized labor has accomplished in the past few years is the fact that we have educated capitalists and employers to understand our aims and purposes better. We have taught them that we are a force which must be taken into account. We have educated Mr. Hanna and his attitude toward labor is fair and just. President Baer of the Reading Railroad Company, and of many coal companies, and President Parry of the National Manufacturers' association, need education. Organized labor is not through with these gentlemen, but we shall give them first-class diplomas yet and their attitude will be entirely changed. If organized labor will but act along conservative and intellectual lines it will not take long to bring the interests of the nation into one harmonious whole. Next Tuesday evening it will be our proud and happy privilege to have with us a representative of the nation, when Senator Hanna will sit as a guest at our banquet.

"So long as the employer does not arrogate to himself more than his share of the products of the co-operation of labor and capital there will be no necessity for strikes. When capital becomes arrogant labor must use the only defensive power God has given it."

Dr. Washington Gladden of this city and the Rev. Father Mulhane of Mt. Vernon also addressed the union men and there was a great labor demonstration this afternoon preceding the meeting.

SPANG REGRETS HIS NEW YORK EXPLOIT

Young Pittsburgher Recovers Himself in Bellevue Hospital and Expresses Contrition for His Herald Square Performance.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, April 19.

Charles Frederick Spang, the wealthy young Pittsburgher who "shot up" Herald square on Saturday night, woke up in the prison ward of Bellevue hospital today apparently as sane as his keepers. His mind was a blank concerning the exciting episode in which he had been the central figure. Awakening, he looked about at the 16 bruised and battered physical wrecks in the midst of whom he had spent the night, and rubbing his eyes he cried:

"Where am I?"

"You are in the prison ward of Bellevue hospital," the attendant answered him.

"What for?" Spang asked, with evident surprise.

"For shooting people."

"What? Me shoot people? You must be crazy."

The general titter in the room irritated Spang more. He jumped from his cot and ran around the room with his hands to his head and moaning.

"I didn't shoot anybody," he cried.

Dr. Frederickson, who has charge of the ward, was hurriedly summoned. He made Spang go back to his cot. "You did not shoot anybody," Dr. Frederickson told him. "You shot at several persons, but you missed."

"Oh," cried Spang, and tears came to his eyes. He moaned and cried for several minutes until he fell asleep. When he awoke he called for Dr. Frederickson and told him that he wanted to know the facts. When he learned that he had broken loose in Herald square with two revolvers and had shot at an inoffensive stranger and stampeded cabmen and pedestrians he said he hadn't the slightest recollection of the incident. He demanded to be released.

Dr. Frederickson questioned Spang thoroughly in an effort to discover the condition of his mind.

"Spang is perfectly rational now," said Dr. Frederickson tonight. "He has quieted down. His conduct of Saturday night was due to the effects of morphine. He is a fiend of three years' standing. He will be all right in several days."

Dr. D. L. Wilson, who is staying at the Hotel Manhattan, and who is claimed by Spang as a relative, inquired for Spang at the hospital today. Several other inquiries were made. The superintendent said that a man, who desired his name to be withheld, but who is a very prominent Pittsburgher, called at the hospital and said he would return to Pittsburgh and inquire of Spang's family what disposition they desired to have made of him.

When Spang is discharged from the hospital he will be arraigned in Jefferson Market police court.

SPANG'S LIFE OF LUXURY WHILE IN PITTSBURGH

Had a Suite of Rooms in the Iroquois Apartments—An Expert Chauffeur.

Charles Frederick Spang left magnificent bachelor quarters at the Iroquois apartments in Oakland to spend the spring in New York. His rooms were fitted up with every luxury which money and good taste could provide and his life here was a round of leisure. He took up his home in the apartments in April, 1902, and leased the rooms for a year. Just after the Christmas holidays he went to Florida and returned three weeks ago, stopping for two days. He went to New York, saying that he would make a flying visit and come back to Pittsburgh, but

DESPERADO AND DEPUTY SHOT DEAD

Another Officer Was Also Fatally Wounded in Fusillade.

OUTLAW DEN RAIDED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Bakersfield, Cal., April 19.—James McKinney, the outlaw, was shot and killed here today. Deputy Sheriff Tibbitts was also killed and Constable Packard was fatally shot.

Sheriffs Kelly of Kern, Collins of Tulare and Leotin of Arizona counties, with Officers William and Burt Tibbitts, Gus Tower and City Marshal Packard surrounded McKinney this morning in a Chinese house. William Tibbitts and Packard approached McKinney in the house and ordered him to surrender. McKinney answered by shooting. Will Tibbitts was shot through the stomach and died soon after; Packard was shot through the neck and shoulders and dangerously wounded. But Tibbitts, a brother of the dead deputy sheriff, shot McKinney through the mouth and neck, killing him.

McKinney had been in Bakersfield two days, and was harbored by friends in a Chinese joss house. The house was a regular fort. In the place with McKinney was Hul Sulz, a desperado. McKinney had a sawed-off shotgun, and Sulz used a pistol. Sulz would not obey the order to come out of the barricaded house and the fire department was ordered to the scene. Sulz gave himself up. He was taken to the county jail. An immense mob surrounded the jail and tried to take him from the officers.

Another accomplice of McKinney was known to be in the house where the battle took place, but he would not surrender. The building was set on fire and the man was soon smoked out and taken to jail.

McKinney was accused of having committed several murders. He was a native of California and was first sent to the penitentiary from Tulare county for assault to murder, and after his release went to Randsburg, Cal., where he figured in some further shooting trouble. He escaped trial, coming to Bakersfield soon afterward, where, in the latter part of 1900, he shot and killed "Tom" Sears, a gambler, as the result of a dispute over a game of cards. No one saw the fight and McKinney was acquitted.

Last July in Porterville he killed Billy Lynn and wounded Constable John Willis and another man in a drunken row. He made a sensational escape from capture and for several months wandered practically unmolested about the country. A few weeks ago Sheriff Collins discovered him at Hermosillo, Mexico, and an application for his extradition was made. The Mexican authorities, however, had released him before the arrival of the papers.

Nothing more was heard of him until April 5, when word came from Kingman, Ariz., that McKinney had murdered Charles Blakely, known as the "cowboy pianist," and Roy Winchester, a young miner.

BRIGHT TOLEDO GIRL NEEDS MESSENGER BOYS

TOLEDO, April 19.—(Special.)—Miss Mayme Hertzell, a 20-year-old girl, has opened an office in the Nasby building and started the Toledo Messenger Service. She proposes to do business in competition with the American District people, and her only difficulty thus far has been in securing a sufficient number of boys, so rapidly is her business growing, owing not only to the novelty of the institution, but to her striking business methods. She is a telegraph operator then.

OVERCROWDED WESTERN AVENUE CAR DASHED WILDLY INTO MOVING TRAIN AND A DOZEN PASSENGERS WERE HURT

Because an electric brake refused to work, an overcrowded car on the Western avenue line of the Pittsburgh Railways Company at 2:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon dashed down Federal street, Allegheny, collided with a freight train and injured a dozen passengers. The car ran 125 yards, wrecked a carriage, broke through the safety gates at the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago railway crossing, struck an empty refrigerator car, derailed the rapidly moving train and then went to pieces, the tracks being strewn with the splintered wreckage from which the wounded passengers were rescued. All the people on the car suffered from bruises. The more seriously injured are:

H. HIRSH, No. 1282 Sheffield street, Allegheny; ribs fractured and internally hurt; face and hands cut.

J. E. MITCHELL, No. 1241 Pennsylvania avenue, Allegheny; lacerated about arms and legs.

MRS. J. E. MITCHELL, limbs bruised and suffering from nervous shock.

INFANT CHILD of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell.

STEPHEN HARRISON, West End, both wrists sprained.

BRUCE HARRISON, West End, scalp injured and face cut.

C. A. RIDER, No. 1822 Beaver avenue, Allegheny; suffering from several cuts and bruises.

MRS. VASSEL BELL, No. 1027 Manhattan street, Allegheny; cut and bruised about head and hands.

CLARENCE J. COCHRAN, No. 113 Jackson street, Allegheny; legs cut.

JOHN BOPP, policeman in Allegheny; right hand mashed while carrying passengers from the wreck.

MRS. EMMA BOTH, No. 1027 Manhattan street, Allegheny; severely lacerated.

A remarkable feature of the accident is that any of the people in the car escaped alive. The injured passengers were removed to their homes after their injuries had received attention in the Ft. Wayne railroad station, which was used as a temporary hospital.

The wrecked car was No. 2182, one of the big "cruisers" recently placed on the line. When Ohio and Federal streets were reached on the trip toward the city the car was jammed with passengers. A few got out at the corner, but others were taken on, and every strap was manned when it started down the steep Federal street grade from Park way. On the car sped with the heavy burden of human freight, but James Rodgers, the motorman, an old and trusted employe, placed reliance in the efficiency of his power brake, and felt no alarm because of the car's speed or of the usual enormous load.

At Stockton avenue he shut off the power and applied the brake to make the safety stop at that point. The quick movement of the controller lever was not responded to by the wheels, and the heavy car glided on with increasing momentum. Down along the railroad tracks the gates were falling and all traction cars were signaled to stop.

With a roar a big locomotive rolled over the crossing, snorting and grinding as it dragged a long freight train up the heavy grade, gathering a speed of 20 miles an hour. Harry Catlin, a driver for the Allegheny Express Company, with an empty carriage, stood whipping his horses which were on the street car tracks and vainly tried to escape from his perilous position.

The car dashed on down the hill. The wheels were free and nothing now could prevent a collision. The passengers saw their danger and made a bound toward the rear door, crushing one another in their terror-stricken attempts to escape. The crowds on the sidewalk waiting to cross the railroad screamed and fled into the station shed.

Rodgers kicked down the iron gate that penned him in his cab and sprang from the car. Catlin's carriage was struck and thrown across the street. Frightened passengers threw down the windows in the wild running car and tried to scramble out.

The crossing gates next were struck and snapped off like brittle pipe stems. The cries of the passengers and the roar of the train in the next moment were drowned by the crash of the trolley car as it plowed its way through the gates and rammed a refrigerator car, throwing it off the track and derailing every car that followed. The jingle of shattered glass, the crashing of breaking timbers and the moans of the imprisoned people marked the doom of the trolley car as it was lifted from its trucks and hurled across the street, a splintered mass of wreckage.

The freight train was quickly stopped and the crowd on the street hastened to carry out the injured. Two wrecking trains were brought from the railroad yards and immediately began removing the derailed cars. Traffic was blockaded two hours.

JEWS ARE PRESERVING THE HOME AND FAMILY

Bishop Satterlee of the Episcopal Church Preaches an Eloquent Sermon.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—"The Jews are preserving the home and family better than we Christians are doing. I do not know how to account for this, but I do know it to be a fact."

Bishop Satterlee of the Episcopal church made this declaration in a sermon here tonight, in which the main subject of his discourse was divorce. "Men," said the bishop, "are losing respect for the home and caring less for the family—the unit of our civilization. On the shoulders of the husbands and fathers of the land," he continued, "rests the responsibility for the low estate to which the family has fallen in this country. This fostered and encouraged the greatest curse of the age—divorce and the loose manner in which the sacred marriage vows were being kept.

"The great evil—the most frightful danger—of our age is divorce and the breaking down of the family institution," said the bishop. "If it is not stopped the women of this country and our race will be degraded within 50 years."

BOXERS GIVEN AWFUL LESSON

Ten Men and Women Beheaded for Practicing Forbidden Art.

MEET AT MIDNIGHT

Viceroy Yuan Shih-Hi Makes Terrible Example of Murderous Natives.

HEADS ON EXHIBITION

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, April 19.—Minister Conger reports to the state department from Peking under date of March 12 that an attempt has been made in the district of Yulien, about 100 miles west of Peking, to reorganize the Boxer movement, but was promptly suppressed by the energetic action of the viceroy, the famous Yuan Shih-Hi, who stood like a rock against the Boxers in 1900. Several soldiers lost their lives in the attempt to arrest the criminals. Several of the criminals were killed and 10 others were arrested, who are to be beheaded and their heads exposed where the organization started. Mr. Conger says only such prompt and severe measures will prevent similar organizations in other localities and that it is hoped and believed Yuan Shih-Hi will continue as he has begun.

The native official report on the uprising is as follows: "The Tung Yung-ying brigade general, Li Antung, and the district magistrate of Yu-Tien, Cheng Chih report: In the matter of 'boxers' drilling at Liu Ho Tao in the district of Yu-Tien we sent petty officers to make thorough search, and on the 24th of the first moon (February 21, 1903) they arrested Kan Lin Chiang and others, men and women, 10 in all, who were practicing 'boxer' arts, and we now ask for orders as to how we shall deal with them."

TERRIBLE PENALTIES IMPOSED.

To this reply was received as follows:

"The contents of the report have been carefully noted. Proclamations have been issued repeatedly, strictly forbidding any revival of the disturbances of 1900, which were originated by the 'boxers,' but Kan Lin Chiang and his party, having no regard for the law, assembled a lot of people to form a band of 'boxers' and drilled them in the dead of night. When they were being searched for by the civil and military officials they dared to resist arrest and killed and wounded several soldiers. Thereupon seven of them were killed, men and women, and their heads exposed as a warning. Ten others, men and women, were arrested and their swords, spears, flags, pennons, charms and pledges, all proofs of their evil designs, were brought to light.

"I shall depute Tao Tai Chang Hsi-Luan of the military secretariat of the regular force to proceed at once with all haste and make a thorough investigation and deal with the matter according to the regulations already in force. As to the 10 men and women already in custody, let them be carefully tried and afterward beheaded, and let their heads be sent to the place of their rebellion and suspended as a warning to all and a testimony of the rigor of the law."

ROOTING OUT THE EVIL.

The proclamation of Viceroy Yuan Shi Kai shows clearly the vigor of the measures taken by him to stamp out the boxer movement. He says: "Whereas, on my taking charge of this office in the middle of the eleventh moon of the twenty-seventh year of Kwangsu (January, 1902), after the troubles which the province of Chih Li had experienced, certain lawless bandits leagued themselves together to excite the people, again bring on calamity and revive the dying embers of sedition, it became most urgently necessary to prepare severe regulations and by heavy penalties suppress disorder. At that time I decided upon 11 regulations, which were printed and published far and near, giving information to all, and I ordered my subordinates to strictly enforce the prohibitions, all of which is a matter of record.

"For more than a year these regulations have been uniformly observed and the province has been uniformly quiet. But, perhaps because a long time has elapsed, some have grown careless and have not been given special attention, so that they have secretly incited the people and caused the remnants of evil to sprout again, thus occasioning trouble and bringing calamity upon the country people.

ANOTHER WARNING NECESSARY.

"It becomes necessary, therefore, again to set forth these prohibitions, which have been printed and published for information, admonishing all to exert themselves to observe them and put away evil that they may enjoy the blessings of widespread peace and prosperity.

"Let every one tremblingly obey."

The regulations referred to are of singular severity. These persons are to be beheaded: Those dealing in magic spells to befool the people, those propagating evil teachings and evil arts, those banded together to commit violent crimes; soldiers in sympathy with boxer societies.

Heavy fines and penalties are imposed on householders who furnish quarter for boxer meetings; on boxers themselves and on those who fail to expose boxers to arrest. Altars propagating evil teachings are to be destroyed and a reward of 200 taels is offered to any one delivering up [illegible]. Smaller rewards are offered for information on which arrests can be made. Where boxers practice the magistrates are to be impeached.

PEKING, April 19.—Chen Chuen Hsuan has been appointed viceroy of Kwang-Tung and Kwang-Si provinces, and Hsi Liang has been made viceroy of Szechuan province. Both are strong men and probably will suppress the rebellion.

ALCOHOL IS NOT VALUABLE AS FOOD

Conclusions Reached by the Scientific Investigators at Bremen.

AMBITION IS DULLED

Professor Berens Says It Is an Enemy of the Highest Attainment in Art—Total Abstinence Recommended by Majority.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BREMEN, April 19.—The international anti-alcohol congress that meets biennially on the continent is closing its ninth session today. It has been in the matter of attendance and well-known persons present the most remarkable of any session of the congress. This body of 1,400 delegates, notable in science and in the service of humanity as university professors, or for their hereditary rank, have come here from 15 different nations on two hemispheres.

Questions of religion and politics were wisely ruled out of such a varied assemblage. The subjects discussed were the teachings of science concerning a moderate use of alcohol and the effect of its use on every phase of human progress. Two schools of thought were represented, the Moderates, who called themselves "the temperate school," and the total abstainers, who were called the "abstinence school." By common consent the congress passed no resolutions, but the applause for the testimony of science and experience on behalf of total abstinence showed the moderates to be in the minority.

The statement of Dr. August Forel, one of the foremost authorities in the world on brain and nerve diseases, that neither science nor experience furnishes evidence to justify calling alcohol food, called out prolonged acclamations. The papers read by notable members of the congress during these six days will fill two or three volumes and soon will be printed for wide distribution.

The paper on "Alcohol and Art," by Prof. Berens, director of the German school of art at Dusseldorf, was a classic. He said that alcohol by dulling the spiritual aspirations essential to the greatest work is an enemy of the highest attainment in art.

A paper on scientific temperance education in the public schools in the United States, by an American representative (Mrs. Hunt) led to a discussion in which 20 speakers took part, and nearly every one of them commended the extension of the American method for the prevention of intemperance.

In compliment to the United States, Mrs. Hunt presided at Saturday's session of the congress. After the sightseeing excursions, to take place tomorrow, the delegates to the congress will separate.

BERLIN WIND-SWEPT

Wholesale Destruction of Property and Numerous Casualties in German Capital.

BERLIN, April 19.—A terrific hurricane struck Berlin to-day, causing wholesale destruction of property and numerous casualties, collapse of telegraph lines and disorganization of the railway service. Emergency hospitals were today crowded with injured persons who had been hit by flying fragments and broken glass. In the Thiergarten the fierce gale caused general havoc, tearing up giant trees that were centuries old, whirling the trunks and branches through the air and compelling the police to establish protection lines.

Reports from the surrounding provinces and from private sources reveal great destruction of property, while the injuries received in some cases are of a fatal character. Heavy falls of snow are reported from Frankfort, Dusseldorf, Brunswick, Bonn and Nuremburg.

LOUBET BROUGHT RAIN

Seasonable Shower in Morocco Attends Visit of the French President.

TLEMCEN, ALGERIA, April 19.—Although it was intended that today should be a day of rest, President Loubet worked hard in receiving various delegations, and a number of native chiefs, including several from tribes on the Moroccan frontier, among whom he distributed decorations and presents.

The president inspected the native schools today, but the neighborhood excursions which had been planned were prevented by a heavy fall of rain. As the surrounding region has suffered long from drought many natives attributed the rainfall to the presence of the ruler of the French republic. President Loubet will leave here tomorrow for Saida, stopping at several intermediate places on the way.

SCRUBWOMAN TAKES FANCY TO DIAMONDS

PHILADELPHIA, April 19.—(Special.)—The arrest of a scrubwoman, employed by two prominent local jewelers may, the police say, clear up the mystery surrounding the disappearance of numerous articles of jewelry, cut glass and silverware from two stores, during the past few months. A watchman at Hertz's saw her drop a diamond ring in a scrub bucket and when leaving conceal it in her clothing. It was recovered at a pawnshop later on.

Stole Money and Clothing.

The house of Harvey Trumble of Port Vue, just outside the McKeesport city limits, was robbed at 2 o'clock yesterday morning. Trumble and his wife were absent. Mrs. Trumble's sisters, May and Sarah Heath, were asleep in a downstairs room. The burglars entered through a window and passed through the room where the girls were sleeping and stole $5 and the girls' clothing.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—The recent reform movement in the city, which resulted in the shutting up of all the gambling houses, has worn itself out quickly. The houses have all been reopened and are doing a lively business.

SHARON, PA.—The bricklayers of the United Coke & Gas Company who have been out on strike since April 1, have effected a settlement. The men were conceded an eight hour day and given 55 cents an hour.

NEW CASTLE, PA.—Richard Logan, Jr., of this city, has begun a damage suit for $15,000 against the United States Steel Corporation for personal injuries received while working in the Shenango mill here.

WASHINGTON, PA.—Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Milliken of this city celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage. A large number of guests were present, including 11 children and several grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Milliken.

HE RECEIVED FATAL LETTER

Missive from Scotland Caused Suicide of Homesick Loekens Near Carnegie.

YOUNG WIFE'S SAD SIGHT

Found Body of Husband With a Bullet Hole in the Head and a Revolver in the Hand—Other Work for the Coroner.

Homesick and despondent over sad news from his former residence in Scotland, Richard Loekens, 21 years old, of Glendale, near Carnegie, ended his life yesterday morning by shooting himself with a revolver, during the absence of his wife. Loekens came to this country from Scotland last May. He was married Christmas eve and was employed in the mills of the Superior Steel Company at Carnegie. He was doing well and was in good health.

Loekens received a letter from his father in Scotland last week which announced the death of a niece to whom Loekens was attached. It was also stated that his father was in poor health. He brooded over the news considerably. Yesterday morning he got up and started the fire for his wife. He went back to bed again. The young couple had lived with the wife's parents until Wednesday, when they moved to the adjoining house.

Mrs. Loekens went next door to see her mother. In the meantime Loekens got up and opened his wife's trunk and got his revolver. He went back to bed and placing the revolver against his right temple shot himself. The bullet passed through his head. His young wife came back to the house later, and when she went to the room discovered her husband lying in bed with a small hole in his temple and a revolver clutched in his right hand.

She called her mother, Mrs. Dempster, who summoned a physician. When he arrived he said the young husband had died instantly. Loekens never threatened to kill himself and was always in a cheerful mood until he received the letter from his father last week.

Mary Bussa, 4 years old, of No. 84 Washington street, died at the West Penn hospital yesterday morning from scalds April 13, by falling into a tub of hot water at her home.

George Pritchard, 24 years old, a fireman employed on the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad, died at the West Penn hospital yesterday morning at 7 o'clock from injuries received one half before by falling off his train at Orange street, South Side, and being run over. He was switching some cars and was standing on the tender of the engine. In some unknown manner he fell off and two cars passed over him. He lived at Shire Oaks.

Mildred Blackwood, 1 year old, of No. 88½ Sarah street, Allegheny, died of convulsions at her home yesterday morning.

TWO PERSONS DROWNED AS RESULT OF QUARREL

Bodies of Husband and Wife Are Taken from North River, New York.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, April 19.—Frank J. Feeley and his wife quarreled on the street today and less than an hour later both their bodies were taken out of the North river. The police believe the woman committed suicide and that the husband was drowned in trying to rescue her.

The couple had quarreled early in the day in their apartments and both left the house, the wife writing a note threatening suicide. When Feeley returned he read the note and rushing from the house overtook his wife with the result that the quarrel was renewed.

A policeman interfered and the woman, breaking away from her husband, ran to the river and jumped in. Her husband dove after her, but both were caught under some barges and drowned.

THREE MEN WOUNDED IN RIOT AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, April 19.—Because one of their number had been arrested for creating a disturbance, a crowd of Greeks, who were celebrating their Easter Sunday here today, created a riot and before the mob could be dispersed three of them had been shot by Policeman Cohen and Henry Oppenheimer, a bystander, who came to the assistance of Cohen. The three wounded men, who are said to have been the leaders of the attack on the officer, were arrested. None of them was seriously injured.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON ASKS NO DELAY

NEW YORK, April 19.—(Special.)—Secretary Cormack, N. Y. Y. C., today received the message of Sir Thomas Lipton informing him there will be no necessity to postpone the races. Consequently the cup races will be sailed off Sandy Hook lightship on August 20, 22, 25, 27 and 29, as originally agreed upon.

Will Study the Situation.

MAYAGUEZ, PORTO RICO, April 19.—Secretary Hartzell and Treasurer Willoughby arrived here today. They will investigate the evidence against Mayor Fugarde, who is charged with municipal frauds, and will ascertain if Gov. Hunt has sufficient grounds for removing the mayor from office.

An Interesting Comparison.

It would naturally appear that owing to the price for which imported champagnes are sold, the combined revenue for the sale of all these wines would be in excess of the amount paid annually for any single brand of bottled beer.

But such is not the case, as the United States custom house statistics clearly and definitely prove.

Anheuser-Busch's Budweiser not only exceeds in sales all other bottled beers combined, but has proved itself the mightiest competitor of imported champagnes by exceeding their annual revenue more than $3,500,000.

The sales of Budweiser during the year 1902 were 83,790,300 bottles, averaging 25 cents per bottle, amounting to $20,947,575.

The United States custom house records prove the importation of all champagnes for the year 1902 to be 360,708 cases. Figuring on a basis of 12 quart bottles per case—4,328,496 bottles, and if sold at the maximum, $4.00 per bottle, to the consumers, amounted to $17,313,984.

From these figures it will be seen that Budweiser's lead was $3,633,591.

It is a noteworthy fact that this pure and wholesome beverage is fast supplanting imported champagnes upon the banquet table, just as it is supplanting the decanter upon the sideboard in American homes.

This is as it should be, and marks a perceptible advancement in the direction of true temperance.

Budweiser is a brew that is known the world around, and is not only preferred by discriminating customers because of its rare flavor, fine effervescence and perfect maturity, but prescribed by physicians everywhere, on account of its absolute purity, nourishing and upbuilding effects.

W. H. SMITH,
The New Mayor of Canton, O.

CANTON, O., April 19.—(Special).—Canton's new mayor is W. H. Smith, a practicing attorney who was elected over his Democratic opponent by a majority of 21 votes. Ex-Postmaster John E. Monnot was the Democratic candidate. Mr. Monnot made the race four years ago for the same office, but was defeated by the narrow margin of 13 votes. His friends fear that the 13 majority in the first election is a hoodoo to Monnot's political career. It has been unofficially announced that Mayor Smith will select William L. Day, the oldest son of Supreme Judge William R. Day, as one of the members of the new board of public safety.

LIBEL BILL DENOUNCED BY SHARON MINISTER

He Says Governor's Veto Would Win Admiration of the People.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SHARON, PA., April 19.—Before an audience that packed the Morgan opera house, the Rev. Parker Stockdale, pastor of the Unitarian church, tonight denounced the Salus-Grady libel bill. He said he could hardly believe that such an infamous bill could be passed by the legislature. The passage of the measure is enough, he said, to arouse the pulpit and press to an increased devotion to the principles of liberty.

The bill strikes at once at the liberty of the people and protects designing and corrupt politicians who dominate our great cities. It is the duty of lovers of freedom to denounce this nefarious bill, and if the governor does his duty he will veto the measure. If he does he will win the admiration of a grateful people; but if he yields to corrupting political influences he will receive the contempt and denunciation that such an act would surely bring upon him.

IRWIN, PA., April 19.—(Special.)—The Rev. E. E. Paxton, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, this evening preached on the Salus-Grady libel bill. He said:

"The safeguard of our public affairs is a free and fearless press. The greatest curse that can come upon our officials is to be classed as a mass of men who fear to have the searchlight thrown upon their official acts. Rather than hinder, we should do all in our power to encourage the press in a fearless representation of the lives of men in every station of life."

RAISED THE MONEY

Dr. Parkhurst's Congregation Takes His Hint and Goes Him $2,400 Better.

NEW YORK, April 19.—(Special.)—At the morning service today the Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst, pastor of the Madison Square Presbyterian church, announced that within the week a fund of $42,000 had been raised. This covers a deficit in connection with the church institutional building and completes the $200,000 endowment for the support of the prospective new church.

Easter Sunday Dr. Parkhurst called attention to a deficit of $15,000 arising from the construction of the church house in Third avenue. He also pointed out that $175,000 had been pledged for the endowment with which it is proposed to support the new church for all time.

The pastor's words fell on fertile soil and worthy members within a few days had not only raised the amount mentioned but had subscribed $2,400 in excess.

SULTAN HELD UP.

European Ambassadors Tell the Sultan He Must Institute Reforms.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 19.—The Italian, German, Russian and Austrian ambassadors to Turkey have had audiences with the sultan in which they urged the imperative necessity of checking the Albanian disorders.

Much comment has been raised by the significant fact that the Austrian and Russian ambassadors saw the sultan jointly, as this is almost unprecedented. It is reported that the representatives of both these countries took a very serious tone in speaking with the sultan, and that that ruler promised acquiescence to their demands.

The Albanians at Ipek still detain the sultan's commissioners as hostage.

HAD TOO MANY SCISSORS.

Allegheny Suspect's House Searched With Remarkable Results.

Detectives T. C. Johnston and Charles H. England of Allegheny yesterday afternoon searched the house of John Sheitz, in Ravine street, Allegheny, who was arrested early Saturday morning as a suspicious person. They found in the house eight new suits of men's clothes, a lot of shoes and about a gross of scissors in boxes.

When Sheitz was arrested he had six dozens of scissors in boxes, and this led to the investigation by the officers. He will be given a hearing today.

CARNEGIE AND PHIPPS DONATE PIPE ORGAN

WASHINGTON, PA., April 19.—(Special.)—The Rev. Dr. George S. Shepard, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Washington, announced this morning that through the benevolence of Andrew Carnegie and Lawrence C. Phipps of Pittsburgh, the church would be enabled to secure a pipe organ. A short time ago Mr. Carnegie notified the congregation that he would donate half the cost of an organ, to cost $2,000. Mr. Phipps, whose father, the late Rev. W. H. Phipps, was a former pastor of the local congregation, yesterday sent a check for $1,000, the amount required to be raised by the congregation.

JEALOUS REVENGE ENDED TWO LIVES

Johnstown Carpenter Fatally Shot His Sweetheart and Himself.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

JOHNSTOWN, PA., April 19.—Mad jealousy and a desire for awful revenge are supposed to be the emotions which incited Robert Long, a well-known Johnstown carpenter, to shoot and kill Emma Foust at her home at Seanor Postoffice, 11 miles from here, late Saturday night and afterward turn the revolver upon himself with fatal effect.

Long was in love with Miss Foust and for some months after the two met the girl seemed to return his affections, but later she gave him to understand that she could never be more to him than a friend. This seemed to madden Long and on several occasions he said to friends:

"If I don't get Emma no other man ever will."

Saturday night Long went to Seanor to see Miss Foust. For an hour the two chatted on matters which will never be known. It was 10:15 when the parents of Miss Foust were aroused from their sleep by a shot. There was another shot and the door of the old people's bedroom was opened by Emma. The girl was staggering, and as she entered the room she exclaimed, "I am shot," and then fell dead on the floor.

After shooting Miss Foust, Long stepped out on the back porch and fired a shot into his brain. He died instantly. Both the girl and Long were well known and highly respected. The dead girl was 21 years of age. Long's age was 22.

SUNDAY IN KENTUCKY.

Moonshiners and Their Product Responsible for the Loss of Two Lives.

MAYKING, KY., April 19.—(Special.)—In a pitched battle between revenue officers and moonshiners at Elkhorn creek, Eastern Letcher county, at daybreak this morning, James Moore, a desperado and moonshiner who had terrorized Eastern Kentucky for years, was mortally wounded. William Moore, his brother, was slightly wounded in the shoulder; John Morgan Potter, a pioneer shiner, gave up in the thickest of the battle. Alex Vanoxer, another shiner, and his brother Martin, barely 15 years old, next gave up.

Deputy Marshals James C. Asher, John Asher and Bert King took the prisoners to Whitesburg jail. On their arrival there Marshal Asher attempted to "paint the town red." He met John P. Morgan and drew a pistol on him, but was prevented from firing by friends. Morgan swore out a warrant for Asher. County Jailer Ison proceeded to Asher's boarding house to serve it, when Asher opened fire. At his third shot Ison fired simultaneously with Asher and the latter fell dead. Excitement was at a high pitch and the town tonight is under martial law.

NEW YORK, April 19.—(Special.)—In his mountain home, three miles from the village of Garrison, N. Y., Father Paul James Francis, minister general of the Society of the Atonement, waits for the head of the Protestant Episcopal church of the diocese of Delaware, the Right Rev. Leighton Coleman, to cite him to trial. To the charge which will be made against him he pleads guilty in advance, for he will be accused of teaching that the English reformation was a mistake and that the Anglican church should ask to be taken back into the Romish church.

CRAMPS BORROW FIVE MILLIONS

Famous Shipbuilding Concern Seriously Embarrassed for Lack of Capital.

RELIEF IS NOW AT HAND

United States Steel Corporation Largely Interested in the Affairs of the Firm—Drexel & Co. Float the Loan.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Public Ledger Building,
PHILADELPHIA, April 19.

Through the successful negotiation of a $5,000,000 loan on terms which involve practical reorganization under new management, the William Cramp & Sons Ship and Engine Building Company of this city, which has built many of the best ships for the new navy, as well as fighting vessels for Russia and Japan, has been saved from serious embarrassment.

With a plant which, according to recent estimate of the Audit Company of New York, is conservatively valued at $12,500,000, with an international reputation and with a large share of the United States government's best naval contracts awarded it year after year, the Cramp concern has been in sore need for several years of an increase in its available working capital. It has outstanding notes to meet amounting to $3,000,000.

Much of the firm's outstanding paper is held in New York city, and this accounts in part for the fact that George F. Baker, president of the First National bank of New York, and other large interests centering in the metropolis, has been active in floating the present loan and will doubtless be influential in directing the future policies of the company.

The United States Steel Corporation is also largely interested in the reorganization. The Cramp company is one of the greatest consumers of its products and has been one of its most extensive customers. In negotiating the present readjustment of the shipbuilding company's affairs, Drexel & Co. have taken the leading part, and what they have done has had the approval at every step of J. P. Morgan and of Clement A. Griscom, president of the International Steamship Company and of the International Marine and Navigation Company. Drexel & Co., after an effort extending over several weeks, have succeeded in organizing a syndicate of bankers, in this city and New York, who will loan to the company $5,000,000 at once and will make an additional loan of $2,500,000 later. The present directors of the company are Charles H. Cramp, Thomas Dolan, Morton McMichael, Clement A. Griscom, William H. Barnes, Edwin S. Cramp, Henry M. Cramp, Samuel Dickson and Henry Seligman.

SPANG REGRETS HIS NEW YORK EXPLOIT

on his arrival there he decided to remain for some time and did not renew the lease on his rooms.

Spang's friends here admit that he was addicted to the use of drugs, but were surprised to hear of his strange actions at Herald square. Likewise they are surprised that he was so heavily armed. In Pittsburgh he always carried one 32-caliber revolver and was considered expert in its use.

On account of his crippled condition he followed no business. His income from the Spang estate was sufficient to provide for all his needs and he lived in the most prodigal style. A walk through Schenley park was part of his early morning routine, and regardless of the weather, he would walk as far as the Phipps conservatory and stride back to the Hotel Schenley for breakfast. He is a devotee of the automobile and owned several machines. His favorite was a light gasoline roadster, in which he developed wonderful speed. Theater-going and fishing were his other pastimes while in Pittsburgh. He has a fine collection of curios and mementoes gathered in his travels in Europe. He is a member of the Duquesne club.

The young man's mother, Mrs. Norman Spang of Denniston and Homewood avenues, was a frequent visitor at his apartments. Her last call was on the eve of his sailing to Paris in the winter. A few days thereafter, Spang locked up his room and went to Florida, where he spent the season at a fashionable coast hotel.

MOTORMAN IS DYING

Intoxicated Ball Players Start a Riot With Serious Consequences.

NEW YORK, April 19.—(Special.)—Attempting to quell a riot on his car, started by a gang of drunken men who had been playing baseball opposite the old Guttenberg race track, Joseph O'Connor, a motorman of West Hoboken, was struck on the head with a baseball bat and is said to be dying. Henry Carley, conductor of the car, was painfully bruised and all the passengers were intimidated.

The Hoboken police regard the affair as so serious that they have sent out a general alarm to all adjoining towns requesting the arrest of the assailant of O'Connor and 20 others, his companions, but the descriptions given, aside from the fact that all were intoxicated when they left the car and fled toward Ft. Lee, are very meager.

CAPITAL INCREASE POPULAR MOVEMENT

PHILADELPHIA, April 19.—(Special.)—It is expected that an exceptionally large stock vote will be cast in favor of increasing the capital of the United Gas Improvement Company, $8,473,000, when the stockholders meet on May 4. Officials of the company look forward to a unanimous vote, which is interpreted as meaning a hearty indorsement of their management. The 169,500 new shares, when authorized, will be distributed proportionately among the present stockholders, each holder of 100 shares having the right to subscribe to 20 new ones.

Found Boys' Skeletons.

POTTSVILLE, PA., April 19.—(Special.)—What are believed to be the skeletons of the two Gast boys, who were drowned while coasting at Schuylkill Haven last winter, were discovered a mile below Port Clinton this evening by William Kessler. Kessler was crossing the river in a skiff when he saw the bones of the boys, apparently locked together.

CINNABAR, MONT., April 19.—Secretary Loeb received no word from the president today.

CHOSE THE SUNDAY GAZETTE DESPITE MANY TEMPTATIONS

Many persons found themselves "Twixt love and duty" yesterday, when they got hold of The Gazette. After starting to read they became so much interested that they deferred going out into the air and enjoying the fine weather, while in some cases, sad to say, they also became negligent of their spiritual duties, knowing, however, that they would find all of the most important sermons in Monday morning's Gazette.

The zephyrs through Schenley and Highland parks were not any brighter or breezier than the seven sections and 52 pages of the Sunday Gazette. The first things that caught the glances of the readers were the articles on Page 1 about the shooting of the bank robber at Wampum and the handing out of the plums by the Citizens party of this city, two subjects of absorbing interest to all classes of readers, it being an illustration of how in The Gazette the news is displayed according to its value.

Of great interest to the housewives was the adjoining article, which explained the consolidation of local meat packers to keep up prices and fight the western packers. The wild actions of a half-crazed drug fiend of this city, son of prominent and wealthy parents, who created a sensation in New York's tenderloin, could not help being noticed and read with avidity.

So it went all the way through the paper. Everything in local, telegraph, cable or other news could be found in the broad pages of the Sunday Gazette, put up in the best possible shape. Every department of an up-to-date newspaper was handled by an expert. Payne's bright and original cartoons, the brilliant colored supplements and the humorous sections were features, as usual, and were looked forward to by thousands of readers.

DOCTOR ADVERTISES FOR REFINED LADY

Cumberland Physician Wants to Spend His Money on an Orphan.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CUMBERLAND, MD., April 19.—An advertisement reading, "Refined and wealthy gentleman wishes the address of a refined, handsome, well-bred young lady of good character; orphan preferred; object, friendship and possible matrimony. Address B. Curtis Miller, M. D., Cumberland, Md." which appeared today in a Baltimore newspaper, created a sensation here.

Dr. Miller is very prominent, a bachelor, and has for several years been physician-in-charge of the Western Maryland hospital here. Dr. Miller stated today that he ordered an advertisement for a girl or young woman, orphan preferred, for the purpose of securing some one on whom he might spend a portion of his money in educating her. He stated that the remainder of the advertisement is a mistake and that he will go to Baltimore and have it corrected.

PRESTON IS SPEEDY.

Pittsburgh Steel Expert Drove His Automobile at Breakneck Speed.

NEW YORK, April 19.—(Special.)—Bicycle Policeman Ajax Whitman was resting at One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street and Fifth avenue when an automobile whizzed past him at a terrific speed. Whitman put on speed himself and kept tab on the machine with a stop watch. The two vehicles covered half a mile at the rate of 20 miles an hour, 12 miles beyond the legal limit. The policeman overhauled the auto and commanded the occupant to halt. He led the way to the East One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street station, where the offenders proved to be Veryl Preston, the Pittsburgh steel man, and his chauffeur.

Preston requested that the chauffeur be made the prisoner, but Whitman declared that Mr. Preston was running the machine and that he alone had broken the law. Frederick T. Swift, a Wall street broker, gave bail and Preston was allowed to go.

Mr. Sibley says he bases his request on the fact that he owned the first automobile in this city. He now has three machines, and if each of them must carry a number according to the new regulations, he would like to have 1, 2 and 3. Mr. Sibley is one of the most enthusiastic automobilists in the city and his machines are all of the best.

DOUGLAS WILL NOT WITHDRAW FOR HERRICK

A Contest Is Yet Promised in Ohio Gubernatorial Nomination.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, April 19.—Correspondents of the Commercial Tribune today interviewed at their homes in different parts of the state candidates for the coming Republican gubernatorial nomination regarding the statement given out last night by George B. Cox of this city that the delegates from Cincinnati would co-operate with the delegates from Cleveland and other localities in supporting Myron T. Herrick of Cleveland. All conceded the nomination of Herrick under existing conditions, and practically withdrew except Albert Douglas of Chillicothe, who said:

"While, of course, I am somewhat disappointed, I am not surprised at Cox's announcement that he will support Herrick. I have said from the beginning and have not doubted at any time that Senator Hanna had it in his power to nominate anyone for governor if he saw fit to exert it. I had hoped and had reason to believe that he would not use his great and deserved influence among Ohio Republicans to control the nomination, and I cannot help feeling sure that it will yet be wise to leave the convention free to make the nomination from among the men aspiring to it, especially since all are the friends of Senator Hanna and are devoted to his re-election to the senate.

"Perhaps Mr. Herrick might secure the nomination without Senator Hanna's influence. Perhaps he may not receive it even if Senator Hanna actively supports him. That chance, at any rate, I shall take. My own candidacy is in no wise affected by the announcement of Mr. Cox."

It is proposed to capitalize the corporation at $10,000,000, with 10 per cent of this amount paid up, to build eight elevators within a year at the principal points of distribution along the Southern Pacific railroad, the largest elevators to be erected at New Orleans, Crowley and Houston. An effort will be made to establish closer trade relations with Porto Rico.

SOUSA'S BAND PLAYS FOR GAY PARISIANS

The last numbers were plantation songs and dance music and fairly brought down the house.

QUAY MAY COME TO CITY TODAY

Senator Arrived in Beaver and Will Remain in the West for Ten Days.

MANY ARE AGGRIEVED

Numerous Citizens Are Disappointed Because of the Failure of Themselves and Friends to Secure Good City Jobs.

Senator M. S. Quay may spend a portion of today in Pittsburgh. He reached Beaver yesterday morning from the east and it is his intention to remain there for 10 days or two weeks.

Politicians generally expect that Quay intends to devote some attention to the Pittsburgh situation. He would like to see a united Republican party in this county. There is reason for believing that during his sojourn in Florida this winter he started to sow the seeds. Murry A. Verner is looked upon as the man who is to bring about party unity. He is now in New York with Recorder William B. Hays. T. S. Bigelow is also in that city, and Verner and Hays will have an opportunity to consult with him.

Today there will be a number of Citizens who will be inclined to return to the Republican party. The appointments made by Directors Bigelow and Moore have left numerous sore spots, and the others which are to follow will add to the army of the disappointed. There are numerous fat jobs being held up. Some of these will be used as a salve, but the medicine is not of sufficient quantity to heal the sore.

MANY HAVE GRIEVANCE.

As the politicians had no place to congregate yesterday, only meager returns from the disappointed are available. Inquiries were made at Newell's last night for William McKelvey, the Eighth ward Citizens leader. His friends said that he was not around, as he did not care to be "kidded" and more about "gold bricks." Judging from this, Leader McKelvey has not fared well in the distribution of municipal plums and is sojourning in the "timber" for the present.

Councilman Schad of the Thirteenth ward is credited with having had a busy day. He has a large and growing ward and likewise a desire to put the bulk of his constituency on the payroll. When the appointments came down yesterday morning the Thirteenth ward did not figure extensively. The disappointed flocked to the house of the man who had given the promises. There is to be a new engine house built in the vicinity, and indignant constituents were offering their bricks to be used in erecting the fire-fighters' home.

The bloodthirsty partisan of the Citizens party is especially aggrieved. He thought that every Republican should be shoved off the payroll. The appointments show numerous retentions. Everyone is bringing forth a protest, and the directors will be besieged today with wrathy "reformers," who will demand that the ax be applied. This will not be a day of peace in any of the departments, and the "busy" sign may be displayed when callers arrive.

LARKIN NOT CONSULTED.

Controller John B. Larkin has not been consulted in the distribution of Democratic patronage. It was said yesterday that he had not asked nor had he been given any appointments. Charles A. Fagan and John A. Staley have been recognized as the distributers. Larkin is accused of having been lukewarm in the start of the Hays campaign. Some people even think that when the time comes to elect the next controller that Larkin will find that if he wants a re-election it will have to be gotten without the assistance of most of the men who aided him to get the position a year ago. His constant praise of the leadership of Col. J. M. Guffey has tended to make some other Democrats feel a trifle revengeful.

The makers of slates on the Marshalsea superintendency are generally inclined to tip George Linderman as the winner. He held the position for many years and resigned last May on account of ill-health. The Linderman suggestion is not pleasing to many Citizens who think that the job should be saved for one of their number.

Although Director Bigelow has appointed J. A. Lang superintendent of the bureau of city property, some of those who have been in the public safety conferences predict that A. J. Pitcairn will get the place. They say this is to be done by switching Long to some other position equally as good. Director Bigelow denied himself to callers yesterday, so his views could not be gotten.

M'TIGHE'S CRUSADERS MADE MANY ARRESTS

Fifty-Six Men Captured in Speakeasies—Penalties Inflicted.

Superintendent of Police McTighe had his crusaders at work yesterday. Three speakeasies were closed and 56 men arrested.

The establishment of Sadie Tobin at No. 525 Wylie avenue was closed in on by the officers yesterday morning. Ten men were captured. Sadie Tobin was released on a $100 forfeit. The Italian speakeasy conducted by Angelo Garinimo at Strawberry alley and Montour way was closed and 40 Italians arrested. The drinking establishment of Marie Scott at No. 508 Fourth avenue was closed and two women and six men were arrested.

Superintendent McTighe said last night that he was closing the speakeasies as soon as his officers located them.

At the morning hearings John Burk and his wife Mary were fined $50 and costs for running a speakeasy in Oakland. Frankie Stewart paid $50 and costs for keeping a disorderly house at No. 8 Spring alley. Four visitors were fined $10 and costs each. Madge Rowan was fined $50 and costs for keeping a disorderly house at No. 240 Second avenue and five men found there $1 and costs. Kate Stewart paid the same fine. Her house is in the rear of the same number. Fourteen negroes, four of whom were women, were captured in the house of Gertie Sprague, No. 10 West Robinson street, Allegheny. The proprietor was fined $50 and costs and the rest $5 and costs each.

A negro crap game on the hillside above Brilliant station was raided yesterday afternoon and ten men arrested.

City Employe Robbed.

Samuel Levine, an employe of the city stables on Tunnel street, was visited at his home in Webster avenue, near Sixth avenue, early yesterday morning by a thief who stole a gold watch and a small amount of money. An entrance was gained by prying open a window.

EX-SUPT. PITCAIRN GOES AFTER LARKIN TODAY; HEARING OF HIGHLAND RESERVOIR CASE NEXT MONDAY; THE CONTROLLER OPPOSES BIGELOW'S TECH SCHEME

Former Head of Health Bureau Demands an Immediate Investigation.

APPEAL TO COUNCILS

He Will Take Matter to Health and Sanitation Committee—Dr. Booth, City Physician, Sends Statement to Director Moore.

A. J. Pitcairn, former superintendent of the bureau of health, will go to Controller Larkin today and demand that the controller obtain from councils an investigation of the charges which the controller has made against the bureau under Pitcairn's administration. Pitcairn stated yesterday that if the controller does not make his promise good he will go to the health and sanitation committee of councils and insist upon an investigation.

Although the controller disclaims any intention of casting any disrespect upon Pitcairn, it is evident that Mr. Pitcairn is about the one who has suffered injury if any has been inflicted. He is decidedly of the opinion that he was the one aimed at and declares that he will leave no stone unturned until he has had vindication and an opportunity to prove the charges of the controller groundless.

Controller Larkin again declared yesterday that he did not intend to reflect upon Pitcairn. He said that he intended to use his influence, if he has any, to get Pitcairn a job under the present administration.

"The charges I made," said the controller, "were based upon reliable information I received from a doctor and a nurse who know considerable about the treatment of smallpox patients at the municipal hospital."

It is claimed that the doctor supplying the controller with information is Dr. R. L. Taylor, who was removed from the position of city physician by Recorder A. M. Brown and appointed one of the district charities physicians under Recorder J. O. Brown.

The controller was asked yesterday if the patients at the municipal hospital under Dr. Taylor were given whisky as a diet. He said he was informed by the doctor and the nurse that whisky was very rarely administered to smallpox patients.

Dr. A. B. Booth, city physician, denied the information alleged to have been furnished by Dr. Taylor. He said that while Dr. Taylor was city physician, and until last spring, when he was city physician himself, most of the cases at the hospital had the disease in a mild form and whisky was given in moderate doses. The disease grew more severe in character and liquor was administered in larger quantities as a stimulant.

"If a nurse at the hospital has stated that whisky was not given to patients while Dr. Taylor was city physician he perjured himself," said Dr. Booth.

Dr. Booth has written a detailed statement in reference to the charges of Controller Larkin, which he has addressed to Director Harry Moore.

EIGHT BOYS ARRESTED.

Charged With Stealing Brass from the Pittsburgh Reduction Company.

M. Schmolwitz, a junk dealer at No. 1344 Vickroy street, and eight boys, whose ages range from 12 to 15 years, were arrested late Saturday, charged with stealing brass from the Pittsburgh Reduction Company. All but three of the boys were released on bail for a hearing on Friday before Magistrate James F. Kane.

The boys arrested are John Doyle, No. 2318 Reed street; Harry Voelker, No. 21 Berthoud street; Charles Kanan, No. 2317 Reed street; John McCarthy, No. 49 Kirkpatrick street; William Voelker, No. 2117 Center avenue; Ike Corrigan, No. 11 Chauncey street, William Lewellyn, No. 15 Rock street; Fred Maher, No. 18 John street.

Lulu Glaser Is Coming.

Lulu Glaser, the dainty comedienne, and her splendid opera company of 50 singers and actors, presenting Stange & Edwards' delightful comic opera, "Dolly Varden," will be the attraction at the Alvin next week. "Dolly Varden" takes its name from a character in Dickens' "Barnaby Rudge," but there the similarity between the novel and the opera ends. It is said in this, her latest success, Miss Glaser has found an attraction that offers exceptional opportunities for the display of her talent as a singer and comedienne. The scenery and costumes suggest a glimpse of life in the days of Louis Quinze. Sale of seats opens Thursday, 9 a. m.

Baby With Smallpox.

Mary O'Donnell, one-year-old, whose parents live at No. 3617 Charlotte street, was removed to the city hospital yesterday, having developed smallpox.

George W. Guthrie to Argue Larkin's Appeal Before Supreme Court.

REMEDY IS SUGGESTED

City Legislative Bodies Asked to Authorize Suits Against Former Director McCandless and His Bondsmen—Basin in Use.

The hearing before the state supreme court in the Highland reservoir case comes up for argument on next Monday, April 27, either in Pittsburgh or Philadelphia. George W. Guthrie, attorney for Controller Larkin, has prepared the brief for his side. He will also make the argument.

Controller Larkin in his annual report advised that councils take some action in the case. The controller was asked yesterday to state what action he would advise councils to take.

"Councils ought to go after former Director J. Guy McCandless," he replied.

"Do you mean that they ought to attack his bond?"

"Yes, they ought to go after his bondsmen and also try to recover what they can from Dr. McCandless himself."

Although Director McCandless accepted the reservoir and used it several months before he went out of office, Director Bigelow is also using the basin daily to supply the city with water.

Controller Larkin said yesterday that this would not affect the case in court. He expressed the opinion that the court would not construe the use of the basin by authority of the former director of public works, whose acts are the subject of litigation, as binding upon the city.

GIRL IS MISSING

Fourteen-Year-Old Daughter of Wilkinsburg Family Lost Since Tuesday.

Edith Myers, the pretty 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Myers of South avenue, Wilkinsburg, has been missing from home since last Tuesday, and the matter has been reported to the police. The girl was sent on an errand to a bakery and never returned. It is said that she was in the company of other girls the afternoon she disappeared, but diligent inquiry and search have failed to develop even a clew as to her whereabouts.

When she left home the girl wore a black waist, plaid skirt, jacket and a brown hat. The girl's home life was pleasant, and no cause can be assigned by her parents for her strange disappearance.

No City for Idlers.

Thomas McNamara, 17 years old, was arrested on complaint of his father, who said he would neither go to school nor work. He was discharged yesterday after a severe lecture, upon his promise to work.

Fought on Their Way to Church.

Twelve Slavs, who had a general fight in Soho street while on their way to church early yesterday morning, paid fines of $3 and costs each.

Belle Threw a Lighted Lamp.

Belle Davis threw a lamp at another woman in Poplar alley, early yesterday morning, and it cost her $15 and costs.

City's Financial Agent Favors Buying Flinn-Magee Site at $350,000.

OWNERS CAN GET MORE

Controller Says If It Is Condemned the Property Will Cost at Least $400,000—Ordinance Shelved in Committee.

Controller Larkin does not believe that Director Bigelow's scheme to condemn the Flinn-Magee property for the technical school is a wise move. He said so yesterday in emphatic language.

"If the city condemns that property it will have to pay $400,000 or more to get it," said the controller. "I know that an offer of $350,000 was made for the property by another party before the city got an option for that amount, but the offer was refused by the executors of the Magee estate, who held it for $400,000.

"The city can get it for $350,000 now, unless it starts condemnation proceedings, and that might make trouble. I think the best thing the city could do would be to buy the property at the price offered. The very fact that Mr. Carnegie wants it for the technical school and considers the price reasonable fixes the value."

Controller Larkin is one of the shrewdest real estate investors of the city. He conducted the sale of the cathedral property which was purchased by H. C. Frick. For this Larkin received from Frick a commission of $25,000, which is said to be the largest commission ever paid in a real estate deal in Pittsburgh.

The ordinance authorising the director of public works to acquire the Flinn-Magee property by condemnation proceedings was introduced in common council last Monday night and referred to the joint finance committee. No meeting of the committee is scheduled and Assistant Controller E. S. Morrow, who acts as clerk of the committee, states that he does not believe a meeting will be held this month, at least he hopes not. The ordinance to acquire the property by purchase is in common council on second reading, but will not be called up until Gov. Pennypacker signs the bill authorising the purchase.

If Gov. Pennypacker signs the bill this week, as he is expected to do, and no meeting of the finance committee is held for a couple of weeks, the purchase bill will have precedence over Director Bigelow's condemnation bill. Common council has the power to pass the purchase bill at once and transmit it to select council. If this is done it will have the effect of killing Director Bigelow's measure. It is claimed by the purchase advocates that the condemnation measure will never be reported out of the finance committee.

Robbed Allegheny News Agent.

James Labacher of Pittsburgh and Robert McTighe, Joseph McWilliams, Ralph Mullin and Louis Thomas of Allegheny, arrested early yesterday morning on suspicion of stealing money and papers from the office of Thomas Dalzell, the Allegheny news agent, each paid $3 and costs.

Won't Need a Hat for 60 Days.

Ham Sheppler of No. 39 West Lacock street, Allegheny, was given 60 days to the workhouse yesterday, for stealing a hat from a Federal street store.

Two Wife-Beaters Fined.

Hugh Dunnigan and D. S. Jones, charged with abusing their wives, paid a fine of $10 and costs each yesterday.

April 20! Summer in Sight!

Are You Ready?

Summery things of every sort now being sold in this store for reduced prices, because the builders have pirated our stock rooms and taken to themselves a great quantity of room which they intend holding through the Summer.

The special Monday Rebuilding Sales, and companion sales that daily follow through the week, are full of interest for everyone. Taking the many attractions today, none is of more interest to women

Than Those in the Millinery Store.

Appended is a millinery reduction specimen list full of pointers on fashionable underpriced hats. Quite remarkable, when one looks the matter square in the face, that prices on Summer millinery are brought down before even the very first days of the season have arrived. Lay it all to rebuilding. Our reward will come when we present to our public the handsomest and roomiest retail store in Greater Pittsburg next Fall.

This list of reduced prices on millinery is only a guide to other and equally forcible reductions:

Broken lines of Street and Golf Ready-to-Wear Hats, the collection as a whole liberal with best specimens, and you may choose for $5. Regular prices were $6.50, $7.50, $8.50 and $10.

Promenade Hats, ready-to-wear, $10. Were $12.50, $15 and $18.

Untrimmed Straw Hats of fancy braid, and every imaginable bend, all the pretty colors, and you choose at 50c, each hat being worth all of $1.

Reynier Kid Gloves, $1 a Pair.

Great news for women, especially for women who use none other than Reynier Gloves, and pay us the regular price of $1.75 a pair.

But this lot of Reynier Kid Gloves, some 1,650 pairs, happen to be what the French firm chooses to call seconds—an imperceptible blemish here and there. Just enough to prevent the gloves from going into the regular lines of our Reynier Gloves.

You know Reynier makes the finest kid glove in the world—has done so for years.

Style of this glove is a three-clasp Suede, and it comes in such stylish colors as mode, pearl, gray, brown, tan, white and black.

More different pieces than we care to mention again, but we call attention to the steins, tankards, pitchers, tumblers, vases, tea ware, cake trays, bonbon trays, bread trays and fern dishes. Any number of other desirable pieces.

The reduced price range begins at 65c each and goes easily along to $12.50.

$2 for 5x9 Foot Table.

Instead of saying $2 for a Ping-Pong Table, our own make, the same tables that we sold when the craze was on for $12.50, we simply give you the size of the table.

For this reason: Its size makes it very useful for many other purposes besides playing ping-pong. Each table is made of thoroughly seasoned wood, is veneered, is hinged in the center so that it can be folded. Not many of them. See them on the sixth floor.

Iron Beds, $4, Worth $6.50.

We know of some stores selling this same bed for $8.75. A splendid time today to secure a durable bed for a very small sum. Here is a full description:

Ex-Supt. Pitcairn of the bureau of health takes the proper course in demanding a thorough investigation into the conduct of the bureau during his administration. Controller Larkin's comments are of a character that demand this action on the part of Mr. Pitcairn, as it is the only way in which the charges can be refuted to the entire satisfaction of the public. It matters not what purpose might underlie the charges or whether they have any significance beyond the personal suspicion of the controller that the whisky has been out of proportion to the smallpox. A thorough, open investigation is the means by which the matter can be set straight. It is the only means.

One of the newly appointed policemen has been sent to jail in full uniform and regalia for an offense he was supposed to arrest other people for committing. We hope this sort of thing will not become common. It is inevitable, of course, that in making wholesale changes some mistakes must be made. For that reason The Gazette has not approved the wholesale discharge of officers who had been tried and many of them found not wanting in the qualities that go to make good policemen. The utmost care is none too much to exercise in selecting men for such positions in order that they may not discredit their calling. Suppression of vice and preserving of good order is not easy if these things must be left to men who are themselves guilty of disorderly conduct.

Possibly it is education the traction managers need—education in the way the street car business is managed in other cities, as a reader suggests. If so, it is rather cruel the way they have been pelted by angry patrons. But if this is what is the matter they should display the sign that did duty in a Leadville music hall in the early and palmy days: "Don't shoot the musician; he is doing the best he can." The belief prevails, however, that there is no lack of knowledge in the case. The principal trouble, aside from willful disregard of the public comfort, is the fact that free franchises have been capitalized so strongly that strenuous shortage in cars is necessary to the realization of dividends. It is the strap-holder that pays the dividends.

Saturday's launch of the West Virginia adds another first-class fighting machine to the American navy, though it will be some time yet before it is completed and equipped. The next of the series to take the water will probably be the Pennsylvania, which is being constructed in the Cramp yards at Philadelphia. Preliminary arrangements are now under way for the event. These cruisers were authorized and planned three years ago, and they will not be ready to put in commission for probably another year. This is slow work for American yards and American workmen. Of course, there have been some delays in the delivery of materials due to the freight congestion and press of orders, but even that does not excuse the whole tardiness of getting out the work. A little more speed is desirable.

A rather pronounced example of Chinese justice is afforded in the report of the suppression of a "Boxer" movement by Viceroy Yuan Shih-Kai. The leaders of the movement were captured and the viceroy has decreed: "As to the 10 men and women now in custody, let them be carefully tried, then beheaded and their heads be sent to be suspended at the scene of their rebellion, as an example of the rigor of the law." It will be noted the trial is a mere matter of form, since the sentence precedes it. This does not conform with American or English ideas of administering justice, but it will probably be effective in discouraging "Boxer" outbreaks in that province—quite as effective as if sentence had not been passed before trial. There is apparently no doubt, anyway, about the guilt of the prisoners.

Announcement is just made that when it has been demonstrated that Canada can manufacture steel rails of the proper quality in sufficient quantity to supply the needs of the dominion's railways, Canada will place a duty of $7 a ton on them, but no alarm will be felt in the United States because of it. The rail mills of this country can afford to lose the trade of Canada, for they are unable to fill in this year all the orders booked for 1903 delivery, and will have to carry over [illegible] thousands of tons for delivery next [illegible]. Many large orders have been placed abroad in the last year or so because of the inability to fill them, and so if Canada can make steel rails for its own markets it does not appear that the American manufacturers will suffer in any degree. How it may affect the rail manufacturers of England is another branch of the subject, but that is merely of interest, and not important in the United States.

Announcement that the European squadron under Admiral Cotton, now under orders to attend the demonstration in honor of President Loubet of France, will be at Kiel for regatta week is gratifying to Americans and ought to satisfy those German critics who have so savagely resented the honors to the French president. This, however, is but an incident in the life of nations. A few naval courtesies are not likely to alter the trend of public opinion in either country. Germany has shown, over the orders to Admiral Cotton, an enmity toward the United States wholly unreasonable and uncalled for. It is comparable only to the heat aroused in Great Britain over the alliance formed by the cabinet with Germany in the Venezuelan matter and has been more groundless. Meantime it is pleasant to note that the United States is going smoothly along, tearing no passions to tatters about any of its cotemporaries, content and good-humored in its consciousness of strength that needs not boasting to uphold it.

Home Rule Secondary.

Irish leaders will not permit undue agitation of the home rule issue to interfere with the prospect of success of the movement to transfer the land to the man who tills it from the man who collects rent from it. Demands for home rule are wisely set aside for the present. It was once the vital issue, but circumstances have made it for the time a secondary consideration. Some of the old irreconcilables would reject a land measure unaccompanied by home rule guarantees of one sort or another, or would continue to demand home rule first so that the land question might be settled later by an Irish parliament. But, fortunately, the United Irish league convention was not dominated by the irreconcilables, and even some of these, like Michael Davitt, yield to the wisdom of this majority with good grace. In setting aside the demand for home rule to give the land project right of way the Irish leaders do not proceed on the principle that half a loaf is better than no bread, but take cognizance of the danger of losing what is within their grasp by attempting to seize something else that is also much desired. A bird in the hand should be caged before going after birds in the bush. Landlordism has been at the basis of Ireland's troubles for nearly a century, and for most of that time on the greater part of the island it has been a real ill. In Ulster the tenant had an actual property right in his leasehold and an assured ownership of all improvements that stimulated him to improve his holding for his own benefit; in other parts of Ireland, without such property right, when he made improvements he was straightway charged a rental on the increased value. There could be only bad results from such a course. There has been some reform of these conditions in the past few decades, but not sufficient to quiet the demand for actual proprietorship that promises soon to be realized. Until it is realized the home rule agitation may be well set aside. The landlords and the tenants are apparently of one mind, or nearly so, for the first time since the Act of Union, and it is inconceivable that an ill-judged agitation for local parliamentary control should be permitted to interfere with the good results to be harvested from the present near approach to unanimity of sentiment of interests that have been for so long hostile.

The Moseley Round Up.

While some things not flattering to American pride appear in the reports of the party of English workingmen (delegates from various trades) who some time ago made a tour of the United States as the guests of Alfred Moseley to investigate industrial and economic conditions in this country, there are some passages that are so entirely flattering to American pride that it is a satisfaction to dwell upon them. That results superior to those achieved in England and in Europe were being achieved in the United States was admitted in advance of the visit and appeared in the fact that the somewhat unique quest for information was deemed advisable and even necessary. Attention had been attracted to America by the circumstance that American manufacturers were making inroads abroad and not only competing with England's manufacturers in all parts of the world, but underselling them in many lines, in the right little, tight little island itself. The fact might be quarreled with ever so much, but it was a fact nevertheless. The next thing was to seek the underlying cause; to find whether it was superiority of American methods or American workmen or deterioration in Britain, or, which is the same thing in its effect, failure to progress fast enough. The English workmen who composed Mr. Moseley's party did not approach the inquiry without prejudice, it would seem, but while prejudice appears in some of their comments it would be futile to quarrel with the first of the conclusions they unanimously reached, "that the British workman has nothing to learn from the American workman." Of course that is no more true than would be a declaration that the American workman can learn nothing from the British workman. Doubtless each can learn something from the other, and it is only false pride that refuses to admit it. But that the English workman is capable under proper direction is proven by the oft cited erection of the British Westinghouse works at Manchester by English workers under American direction. The other point of agreement in the Moseley party that "British employers are not as far advanced as the Americans in the treatment of their employes" is enforced by the circumstance that American direction of British workmen was necessary to produce the result at Manchester.

Passing over the derogatory remarks of some of the Moseley delegates, let us note that the press dispatch that aims to interpret their views reports that while they differ concerning up-to-dateness of methods of production, "the consensus of opinion is largely in favor of America, where 'the distinctive feature is a hankering for the latest machinery and the best method. The American employers and employes realize more fully than the Britishers that brains and not brawn count.'" Also let us note that one of them, Delegate Walls, representing the British blast furnace men, says that "while the output of the American blast furnace is double that of the English furnace, not more than half of the American furnaces are of the most modern type." This is a real tribute to both managers and workmen—not to their brawn, but to their brain. Mr. Moseley himself summing up the reports, says that the American workman has a far better education, is infinitely better paid, housed, fed and clothed and much more sober. "If," he adds, "we are to hold our own in the commerce of the world the old methods must be dropped and the old machinery abandoned." He also says in conclusion: "Let us adopt modern methods and England will hold her own in the commercial rivalry of the world."

Altogether the results of the observations of the 23 delegates and Mr. Moseley must be gratifying to Americans and enlightening to Britons, and if it be true, as declared in the summing up, that "the workmen who have built up American industries are largely Britishers," and that "most of the inventions in American workshops come from men hailing from the old country," English thinkers have need to inquire what virtue there may be in American life and what stimulation in American industrial relations to produce in the transplanting of workmen and ideas those results that have made England and the world wonder.

Germans Coming to Learn.

Considerable interest has been aroused in the coming visit of forty-six German agriculturists by the publication of a cabled synopsis of a circular of instructions to the tourists, which warns them that Americans wear belts and sack coats upon all except the most formal occasions. The purpose of the visit is less humorous than the circular. The party, which is to arrive at New York May 1, includes several experts in agriculture and several titled owners of large estates, and the itinerary has been carefully prepared at the United States department of agriculture, which will do its best to have the visitors see American agriculture as it is. The tour will occupy two months and two special cars will be placed at the disposal of the party by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. The party will journey by way of Baltimore, Washington and Cincinnati through the blue grass country, investigating stock raising in Kentucky. Thence to St. Louis, the packing houses at Kansas City, the prairie states of Iowa and Kansas. A week will be given to the arid regions of Colorado and Utah and their irrigation systems. The sugar factories will be inspected. Another week will be spent in the fruit belt of California. Then there will be a run through the hop-growing and dairy districts of the Willamette valley, to the Mount Hood strawberry country and the wheat fields of the Palouse region of Oregon. Ranches will be visited in Montana, wheat farms in the Red river valley of Dakota, flouring mills in Minnesota, dairy farms in Wisconsin, orchards in Michigan, stock yards in Chicago, agricultural implement factories at several points, and so on east via Niagara Falls to a view of the park system of Boston.

No doubt this will be an entertaining and instructive tour to the Germans. They will obtain an intimate view of all that goes to make American supremacy in agricultural products. They may find something of value to introduce into Germany, by their systematic methods, or they may, like the Moseley commission, go home and condemn Americans as being able to teach them nothing. They may even find Germans in the forefront of American agricultural progress. Whatever may be the result of the German inspection, the Americans will go on supplying their own beef, pork, flour and fruit and supplying their surplus to Europe.

There is one thing in connection with this investigation, however, that is worthy of note. America is visited by such commissions from European countries quite frequently. America sends no such commissions abroad. American investigations of foreign methods are made by individuals. American agriculturists, manufacturers and workmen visit Europe on vacation tours and make their observations informally. If they find anything worth copying they begin to do it quietly when they return home for individual commercial advantage, instead of publishing their conclusions for the benefit of the general public. If it is a good thing self-interest prompts others to take it up quickly and it spreads rapidly throughout the country. We believe more progress is made under the American system. The alert individual is not as likely to pass a good thing with condemnation as the public investigator making formal comparison of methods, pro bono publico. Yet we hope our German friends will be benefited by their visit, and they will certainly be cordially entertained wherever they go.

If the Pittsburgher who shot at imaginary highwaymen in New York city had used imaginary revolvers he might have got fully as much satisfaction from the encounter and caused much less excitement in the metropolis.

The Berlin journalists don't seem to care whether a Spanish squadron visits Kiel or goes to Amsterdam while keeping a jealous eye on the movements of United States squadrons. Nothing like a reputation after all.

Doubtless the lieutenant governor of Missouri who hurriedly left the state and the four Missouri state senators who have been indicted for accepting a bribe would be in favor of a press gag law for Missouri.

It must be some satisfaction to holders of Great Northern Securities Company stock to know that even if they can't get their dividends the dividends have been earned.

Announcement of the whole list of Pittsburgh city appointments is at last made. There are also a lot of disappointments, but no one has yet made a list of them.

If any interest is to be served by gagging the press the people would like to know what it is, being sure that it won't serve their interests.

It is understood that the water company that does business in the South Side hilltop region makes no extra charge for water famines.

Ohio Republican leaders have taken Myron T. Herrick's measure and decided that he will just fit the gubernatorial chair.

Tomorrow Gov. Pennypacker will learn a lot more about how to run a newspaper.

If the Minneapolis flour mills won't grind perhaps there are others.

Missouri boodlers continue to have trouble with the courts.

POLITICAL DRIFT.

Speaking of the flurry following the decision in the Northern Securities case the Kansas City Journal (Rep.) says: "There have been times in the history of this country—and that, too, not very far back—when the trouble precipitated by the unfavorable decision in the Northern Securities case would have excited much financial worry and caused such stringency of credit as would have involved the nation in a disastrous panic. But today the effect of this flurry is actually beneficial. It stopped the sale of undigested securities of doubtful value, forced a salutary liquidation in many wind blown transactions, put a lot of reckless, professional speculators out of business, let loose much of the money tied up in questionable schemes, and serves as a wholesome warning to dishonest, ambitious promoters and the gullible and avaricious public. The strength and solidity which the country is now showing must be attributed in part at least to the widespread confidence reposed in the safe and conservative administration now in control of the government."

\+ + + +

"The south is ringing with praise of Mr. Cleveland's recent New York utterances on the negro question," says the Washington Post (Ind. Dem.) "If the ex-president is really trying to woo back to favor the states below Mason and Dixon's line he could not have touched a more fortunate topic. That section is smarting under the castigation of President Roosevelt, and therefore Mr. Cleveland's admirably expressed views came like balm to wounds. The most wholesome phase of the New York speech, from a southern viewpoint, is the influence it will have upon the northern mind. A transformation of sentiment has been progressing throughout the north as to the negro and his place in politics."

\+ + + +

"It may be impossible, as President Roosevelt affirms," remarks the Minneapolis Times (Ind.), "to cure trust evils by tariff reduction, but granting that the trusts would continue to exist, why should the plain people of this country be asked to pay them a tariff bonus for the sole purpose of enabling them to wring from the consumers profits of 100 per cent when 10 or 15 per cent is regarded as a very satisfactory net gain in ordinary business?"

\+ + + +

Discussing the tariff speech of the president the Minneapolis Journal (Rep.) says it was a disappointment to his most ardent admirers who are revisionists. But the Journal quotes its Washington correspondent thus in explanation: "The president is a revisionist. He is not sounding a retreat from that position as some have feared. He is only proclaiming a truce. Unable to secure the adoption by congress of the wise and prudent commission idea, which affords the best assurance of gradual and moderate revision with least disturbance to business, he finds it inexpedient to urge revision by the old method of congressional committees and congressional debate on the eve of a presidential campaign. There are two reasons for this conclusion. One is political and the other economic." The Journal concludes editorially that the economic reason dominates President Roosevelt at this time.

\+ + + +

Regarding Mr. Bryan as on the point of disrupting the Democratic party, the Louisville Courier Journal (Dem.) says: "If Mr. Bryan could get the presidential bee out of his bonnet, the poison of oratory out of his blood, and could earnestly and intelligently sit down to a study of truth—or, better, could travel, see the world and learn a little outside his own barnyard—he would be at once a more useful and a happier man, a founder and a builder, and not the embittered architect of ruin he threatens to become."

\+ + + +

Says the Baltimore American (Rep.): "Gov. Odell has made a remarkable record as an executive, and under him direct taxation for state purposes has been rendered unnecessary. The people of the state, relieved of this burden, will pay little attention to the charges made by Hill that the legislation which has brought about these conditions is intended to cover up deficits in the state treasury, and is solely intended to advance Odell's political ambition. When Hill also charges President Roosevelt with being vacillating and friendly to the trusts he simply makes himself ridiculous. Whatever Roosevelt may be he is not open to the charge of vacillation, and no trust in the country would be foolish enough to count him as a friend. By both word and act has he made himself a great and successful leader in the movement for the proper regulation of great combinations of capital. Hill cannot strengthen his hold on either the state or the national Democracy by such criticisms as these."

IN THE EYE OF FAME.

Dr. Thomas Jagger, professor of geology at Harvard, who recently investigated the eruption of Mt. Pelee, was married on the 14th inst. to Miss Helen Kline of San Francisco.

Julius Fleischman, recently re-elected mayor of Cincinnati, has for many years given away 500 loaves of bread daily to the poor.

Dr. George Frederick Stout, editor of "Mind," has been appointed to the chair of logic and metaphysics in St. Andrew's university, Glasgow, in succession to the late Prof. Ritchie.

Miss Cornelia B. Nash of New York, who recently shared with John D. Rockefeller the payment of a debt on the Baptist church of Lakewood, N. J., made the church an Easter gift of a pipe organ.

It is announced that preliminary steps have been taken by H. E. Huntington, the railroad magnate, to found a model manufacturing town in the vicinity of Los Angeles, Cal., and to enter the business of felt making.

Sixty-seven years as mail carrier is the record held by Samuel Gibbons of Hodgenville, Ky. Mr. Gibbons began his career as mail carrier under the administration of President Jackson in 1836, and he has seen service under every administration since that time.

Sir Henry M. Stanley, the man who found Dr. Livingstone in Central Africa a little more than 32 years ago, is now 63 years old. He came to this country in 1855, landing as a cabin boy in New Orleans, where a merchant adopted him. While serving as a confederate soldier he was taken prisoner. Then he volunteered in the union navy. At the close of the civil war he became a reporter on the New York Herald, which was the making of him, for Mr. Bennett sent him on several important expeditions, notably the search for Livingstone.

The Unlucky Shamrocks.

From the New York World.

Never has a gamer sportsman than Sir Thomas Lipton played in harder luck. Two years ago his Shamrock II. was dismasted with the king on board, and now a squall has reduced the Shamrock III. to a drifting hulk, killed one man and injured several others, including the owner.

With all our sympathy for Sir Thomas it must be said that these repeated accidents prove that the designers he has employed have gone to the very limit of safety in combining a gigantic sailspread with flimsy construction. It is said now that the Shamrock II. will not even be fit for a trail horse for the new challenger on this side. She is simply a pile of junk. Both yachts apparently were built with a view to barely holding together until after the races. The Shamrock II. had to be towed half-way across the Atlantic, although the conditions of the contest prescribe that the challenger shall cross the ocean under her own sail. Probably the new challenger will have to be towed all the way.

Consideration for Miss Barton.

From the Hartford Courant.

Clara Barton should be treated very considerately, with great forbearance, no matter how unreasonable and obstinate she is. Remember what she was and what she did. She looks upon the Red Cross society as owing her an absolute allegiance. So aged John Wesley looked upon the Methodist societies; so aged William Booth looks upon the Salvation Army. It is unfortunate and embarrassing, but it is perfectly natural. The organization must be saved from serious harm, of course; but it should be a point of chivalry—yes, and of conscience—with everybody concerned to spare Clara Barton's feelings to the utmost limit of possibility in the process.

The Quiet Observer.

ERASMUS WILSON.

Master of human destinies am I!
Fame, love and fortune on my footsteps wait.
Cities and fields I walk; I penetrate
Deserts and seas remote, and passing by
Hovel and mart and palace, soon or late
I knock unbidden once at every gate!
If sleeping, wake—if feasting, rise before
I turn away. It is the hour of fate.
And they who follow me reach every state
Mortals desire, and conquer every foe
Save death; but those who doubt or hesitate,
Condemned to failure, penury and woe,
Seek me in vain and uselessly implore.
I answer not and return no more.
—John J. Ingalls.

You remember Senator John J. Ingalls, of course, for he was very prominent in politics, and at one time was regarded as among the brightest men in congress. It was as a debater that he showed to best advantage, for he was quick, versatile and witty.

But in his case, as in many others, these qualities did not last like those that made Sumner, Sherman, Edmunds and others of their type so great. Wit is good for the time, but sound sense is good for all time.

Ingalls had his day in congress, and then he entered the lecture field, wrote for newspaper syndicates, and among the rest he dashed off some poetry, some of which was quite good, as shown by the above quotation.

The subject of these lines, as you readily perceive, is opportunity.

You know what that is, for, no doubt, you feel that if you only had the opportunity to become great you could do so easy enough.

What is to hinder you from becoming a millionaire? Nothing but lack of opportunity—so you think.

Can you recall the millionaire, who didn't inherit his wealth, who had opportunities made for him, or thrust upon him? Didn't everyone of those who earned their millions make their opportunities, or rather, didn't they improve opportunities as they were offered?

There are as many opportunities now, and more, than when the fortunes you covet were founded.

You need not expect to make a million by trying to do as some millionaire has done before, because you have not his tastes and special qualifications. If you make it you must do it in your own way, and by improving the opportunities offered along the line of your tastes and fitness.

Usually the young fellow who is eternally sighing for a fortune keeps his eye out for a chance to marry one rather than to make it.

"Master of human destinies am I," says Ingalls, the poet.

Had he stopped right there he would have given the world a text to think on for ages, and particularly for those to contemplate who have an ambition to achieve a worthy distinction among their fellows.

It is he who realizes that he is the master of his own destiny who succeeds in accomplishing something worth while, writing something on a page of the world's history that may be read when parchments have mouldered into dust, and records in granite have been blown away by the winds.

A copied career of usefulness is better than none, but it is second-hand, just as the copy of a picture or a statue is second-hand work, and rated second class, although it may be better finished in a mechanical sense.

A keenly sensitive artist can quickly detect a copy picture, even though it appears better to the average eye than the original. The sensitive artist judges by the feel in it, and not by its mechanical features. The really great artist puts himself into his picture, and thus makes himself felt. Hence his work is known and admired because of the feel in it—not merely feeling, but the feel.

And so with the writer. If he puts himself into his word pictures he will be appreciated, if his personality, or spirituality, is worthy of appreciation. Nor does it matter greatly whether he is up to the highest standard of style or not.

In fact every writer whose work is to live must have a style of his own, just as everyone in the long ago who still lives had a style peculiar to himself.

Thousands of writers have studied Shakespeare, Addison, Dickens, Thackeray and others for style, and some have been quite successful in imitating them, but their work was only an imitation and met with the fate it deserved.

It is the writer who has something to say and says it in his own way, who writes for the future as well as for the present.

There are schools of art. But who made the schools? Manifestly those who painted as they felt, and then because their work was good and strong and true the people became favorably impressed by it and artists, seeing his success, and attributing it to his style, begin copying it, and he becomes the head of a school of art.

It is the feel in a picture, a poem, a song, or a story, that causes you to admire it.

You have the opportunity to be what you are fitted for, or you may have it, for it is in the air, so to speak.

Are you looking for an opportunity to make something out of yourself?

Would you know it if it should come your way? Have you the nerve to grasp it and hold on in spite of thumps and knocks, ups and downs and the various adversities that beset the pathway of the successful man?

Have you ever let an opportunity slip? Have you ever missed one that you made a dash for? Have you ever tugged, and tugged for months, or maybe for years, only to be blown high and dry by adverse winds?

Well, it is the fellow who wasn't blown off who reached the harbor all right?

If you have failed in getting where you wished to go, can you give a good and sufficient reason for your failure?

Maybe you trusted to your opportunity carrying you there in safety?

If so you have simply forgotten, if you ever knew, that you have the making of your own destiny. Read those lines by Ingalls, the poet, and again, and then again, until you have not only gotten by heart, but until their meaning has become a part of your heart so that it may guide you and in a great measure control your destiny.

"There's a divinity that shapes our ends,
Rough-hew them how we will."

Says Hamlet in his philosophising on opportunity and destiny. It might better accord with your experience and your feelings to say there is a divinity that shapes our ends rough, hew them how we will.

It is nice, you know, to have someone, or something to blame it on when we fail, for one does so dislike to 'fess up to having been a failure. And they are few indeed who can't drag someone else into it.

This is particularly true in failures in marriage.

Have you ever known an instance wherein either party to a divorce was willing to take all the blame, or even the greater share of it? Hardly, for it is usually the case that each places all the blame on the other. Were it not so there would be no action for divorce, nor any failure in their marriage worth speaking of, for if each were willing to accept their just share of blame they would, most likely, find there wasn't anything left to fuss about.

Know thyself, and then be true, and just and faithful to thyself, and then whatsoever comes to pass will be to thy credit, be it much or little.

In being true to yourself you must needs be true to all with whom you have to do.

We do so many things, the reason for the doing of the same we know not, that the great wonder is that life is not worse with us than it is.

Do you know why you married, if you are married, or why you want to marry if you are single?

You needn't be greatly ashamed if you don't know, for you will still have plenty of company, and some good company, too. As for instance, the letter of the famous Mrs. Carlyle, wife of the still more famous Mr. Thomas Carlyle, to her good friend, John Foster, in which she says:

"Why do women marry? God knows; unless it be, that like the great Wallenstein, they do not find scope enough for their genius and qualities in an easy life."

What do you think of the Carlyle way of answering that grave question—the question that so many women have asked, and men, too, and are yet asking, but getting no answers that give entire satisfaction?

Seeing that the Carlyles lived at arms length apart from each other, but always within easy hearing distance, Mrs. Carlyle ought to have been pretty well qualified to answer, particularly from her side.

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS.

(By Private Wire to The Gazette.)

NEW YORK, April 19.—Coney Island exhibited its recuperative power today. Since last Sunday it has been wind-swept, wave-battered and tide-undermined. Its photograph shanties, its hotels, its palmists' tents, its clam chowder pavilions, its bath houses and some of its population have been cast up high and dry on the shore after being blown a mile or so out to sea, and the whole shore was a whirling mass of debris for days. But today the trouble had either been redeemed or the effects of the hurricane covered up, and the crowds that went down there for a Sunday's outing saw little to suggest that the people's playground had been nearly washed and blown out of existence. It is not easy to give old Coney a black eye. You may deal it a hard jolt with a gale from the northeast, and you may uppercut it with erratic currents which may be caused by icebergs, a storm at the north pole, or a Tammany rough-and-tumble in East Fourteenth street. But you cannot knock it down and out. Year after year Coney Island has been visited by similar storms to that which lasted 48 hours last week, and which spread dismay from Manhattan Beach to Norton's Point. It has been the usual thing for miles of planks to be splintered along the sand. Coney Islanders have become so used to that kind of thing that they would not understand a winter passing without some such devastation. But when a Sunday comes on which the weather permits any sort of crowd to gather for a day's recreation, Coney is there smiling, as it was today, and you may be sure of a pleasant holiday, whether it is cloudy or sunny. Unless there should be another fierce gale to knock everything galley-west again, Coney Island will look as neat as a new pin before the first of May. It always does.

The Worm Will Turn.

A. Toxen Worm, the former Pittsburgher, who has made a name for himself all over the country as a shrewd theatrical manager, is trying to live down his tanbark exploit in connection with Mrs. Patrick Campbell's engagement in this city. He has been advertising the tour of "Romeo and Juliet" with Kyrle Bellew and Eleanor Robson, and his original methods of drawing attention to his attraction has been the admiration of all the publicity promoters along the Rialto. He has taken charge of "A Chinese Honeymoon" now, and is preparing to descend upon Chicago with that capital musical comedy, which is expected to run there all summer.

An Ideal Matinee Day.

Not for many Saturdays was there such a crowd of femininity on Broadway in the afternoon as was seen yesterday. It was a typical matinee crowd. Every theater was full and before and after the performances the sidewalks of the great White Way were gay with spring millinery and musical with the patter of high-heeled bootlees. The bright weather brought everyone out and, of course, the girls and women all flocked to the matinee. Although the sun shone pleasantly, there was a cool breeze, and it was comfortable indoors. In another month, when the sunshine will mean hot weather, too, the matinees will suffer, but yesterday was an ideal day for spending two hours in a cheerful theater.

Repeated Unusual Experience.

The effect of Easter seems to be felt still in the churches of this city. Very large congregations gathered in all the leading temples of worship, and the reason given for this state of things principally is that people went to church last Sunday and were so pleased that they desired to attend again. It was noticed that the number of strangers present in most of the churches was as large as on Easter Sunday. Whether this indication of piety will continue or not is a question, but Christian workers express their sincere hope that it will. At all times, when the weather permits, New Yorkers and visitors to the city are to be found in the churches on Sunday morning in multitudes, even though they may attend a "sacred concert" in the evening.

Cannot Forget Baseball.

Baseball enthusiasts in New York are fairly well satisfied with the outcome of the two days of the game that they have had up to this time. If Brooklyn beat the Giants on Friday, the tables were turned yesterday, and honors are even. This fact has a great deal to do with the calm contemplation of the world that may be noticed in the eyes of the average New York man and boy this evening. Although professional games of baseball are not played in this city on a Sunday, we cannot forget the game already, even on this day of the week. Its fascinations are as potent in this city as they are in Pittsburgh or anywhere else.

New Tenderloin Station.

There is to be a new Tenderloin police station. It will be in West Thirtieth street as the present one is, but is to be one of the handsomest edifices of its kind in the city. The present station is a dirty old building, with poor accommodations for either policemen or prisoners, and has been declared by some of the recent police commissioners to be a disgrace to the city. Plans for the new station have been filed with the building bureau and it is understood that the old edifice will be torn down forthwith and the new one erected in the course of the summer.

Pittsburgh Will Be Represented.

A number of bankers from other cities are already in New York, to be in time for the annual dinner of the American Bankers' association at the New York Athletic club on Tuesday. Many important cities will be represented, including Pittsburgh.

Opening of the New Exchange.

There will be a great jollification in Wall street on Wednesday. The new stock exchange building will be opened formally and there will be simple but impressive ceremonies. The main room of the exchange will be elaborately decorated with flowers and flags and there will be music and other etceteras not usually associated with such a place of business. The Rev. Morgan Dix will open the ceremonies with prayer and there will be speeches by a number of invited guests, including Mayor Low. The only public officials invited are those of the city. Neither the governor of the state nor the secretary of the United States treasury have been asked to take part. Members of the exchange and their guests will occupy the floor and galleries. The building is a very beautiful one and it is worth while to take a trip to Wall street just to look at it.

"Mental Suffering."

From the [illegible] Era.

Libel laws should be so framed as to include poets who write negligently about gentle spring. Every one of these versifiers admits in his private "note to editor" that the accompanying poem has been "just dashed off, hurriedly." That shows negligence, and the "mental suffering" of those who read the poems is very poignant. The fair spirit of spring is grossly libeled in the majority of these effusions.

Rhymes and Reasons.

T. F. WATSON.

BARRED OUT.

Doctor Mary Jasany,
From the highest court of Saxony
Demanded license to carry "Doctor" fore and aft of her name.
But this is the way they blocked her,
And this is the way they shocked her;
And every patriotic Yank will call it sin and shame.

"Sorry, Mary, but we can't—
Sorry, Mary, but we shan't
Allow another dentist Yank to yank the Saxon tooth.
Thin or fat, short or tall,
They play the very deuce and all
With male or female, prince or peasant, among our Saxon youth."

Doctor Mary Jasany
To the highest court of Saxony
Pleaded that her skill was great and her [illegible] very tame.
But this is the way they knocked her,
And this is the way they shocked her;
And every true and knightly Yank will call it sin and shame.

"Sorry, Mary, but we don't—
Sorry, Mary, but we won't
Allow another dentist Yank to yank the Saxon tooth.
Old or young, short or tall,
They play the very deuce and all
With male or female, prince or peasant, among our Saxon youth."

'Tis a long table that has no turning. The United States marine who coughed up a sea serpent the other day turns the table on that sea serpent that coughed up Jonah so many, many centuries ago.

Dinky—Here's a report of a rich and lovely New York chappie who tells the judge he didn't know his auto was running 18 miles an hour through the crowd.

Binky—Perhaps he didn't. There's a limit to the knowledge of the chappie.

Dinky—Had a narrow escape myself yesterday. What I want to know is, have the public any rights which the auto scorcher is bound to respect?

Binky—Yes—after they are juggernauted.

TRUST.

Packers decide to meet in trust
To keep the price of meat up.
Eaters decide to trust in meat
To keep the working [illegible] up.

If packers would only meet in trust
To trust the eater when he's broke,
Eater could always trust in meat
To strengthen him for his little jobs.

When the lily of civilization was lately introduced into Porto Rico there was no intention of introducing along with it the art of perpetrating municipal fraud and jumping of the bail bond. But every flower hath its bug, and that's what an assimilated dusky native mayor has been and gone and done.

NAUTICAL.

The squall it struck Sir Tommie's yacht
And carried away the mast of her.
Tom raised another on the spot,
And we haven't seen the last of her.

Which couldn't have been, for of Tommie's yacht
We have not yet seen the first of her.
Yet, if truth is told of the speed she's got,
We know already the worst of her.

Anyhow, Tom will race our yacht
After the manner [illegible] of him;
And happy we are 'twill be our lot

'Tis only a few hours back, at Pittsfield, that the president of the New York Old Maids' convention proudly bowed to the enthusiastic plaudits of the members after she had haughtily declared that the president of the United States could safely leave the baby question to the hands of the women of the republic. Undoubtedly, but to which of them?

MUST PAY THE PIPER.

That Incident in the Carolines.

From the Washington Post.

We are very glad to see the announcement, presumably sanctioned by authority, that the state department does not propose to make any representations to the German government in the matter of the deported missionaries in the Caroline Islands. The group is now a German possession, with a thoroughly equipped and organized government, the acts of which we have no sort of right to question, save in cases where they operate injustice to an American citizen. In this instance the German officials have found fault with the conduct of certain natives whom our missionaries think they have converted, and have sent them away to another island, as is undoubtedly their privilege. They are German subjects, under the control of German officials, and our missionaries have no more to say in the premises than they would have, under similar conditions, in France, England or Russia. Any attempt at interference would be an offensive and unwarranted intrusion, which, of course, our government does not for a moment contemplate.

Ubiquitous Mr. Carnegie.

From the New York Evening Sun.

Mr. Andrew Carnegie of the Highlands of Fifth avenue and of Skibo Castle, N. B., aspires to the proud position of most useful man alive. Ubiquity is his long suit. To be here, there and everywhere is his chief delight. One day he is establishing a Carnegie Institute at Washington, the next he is providing a liberal education for all deserving Scots. You hear of him delivering his inaugural address as lord rector of a foreign university, in spite of the fact that he had come out with the theory that college men did not succeed in the struggle for success. He offers a library to Cornell university, and when it is not accepted with alacrity, jumps into the game and proposes to pay the medical and living expenses of all the students who were knocked out in the recent typhoid fever epidemic. He scatters book houses all over this town with a lavish hand, and then offers to provide a hall of records for The Hague tribunal. Did anybody ever work so hard to separate from the gold that perishes?

IT IS TO SMILE.

How soon the season's course is run!
How brief the years of mortal men!
We scarce admit the pennant's lost
Until we're out for it again.
—Buffalo Express.

Daughter—Yes, pa, there are two young men who have asked me to marry, and both are nice fellows.

Father—And are both in a way to support you?

Daughter—I think so. Phil tells me he has a tidy salary, and George says he is receiving good wages.

Father—You choose George, and you'll make no mistake, I think. At any rate, it's safer to marry a man who has wages than one who has a salary.—Boston Transcript.

Polly—So you've met that handsome westerner?

Dolly—Yes. He took me to dinner at the Van Gilders last evening. And, by the way, he was pleased to remark that I had an appetite like a bird.

Polly—Well, he's a good judge. He runs an ostrich farm, you know.—Philadelphia Ledger.

"This ought to be a good town for me," says the visiting optician, who has dropped into the village drug store. "I never was in a place where I saw so many people who had optical affections. Why, almost every man that has come in here has had a most pronounced squint!"

"Huh!" chuckles the druggist. "This is a prohibition town, mister."—Judge.

A well-known bishop, who was anxious to gain an insight into the tastes and manners of the working classes in London, traveled one morning by a workmen's train on the underground railway, and was much struck with the potency of several expressions which he was compelled to listen to. He ventured to ask how they came to learn such language.

"Learn it, yer riverence!" was the reply; "yer can't learn it—it's a gift!"—Tit-Bits.

WONDERFUL TRANSFORMATIONS STILL ON IN THE SQUIRREL HILL HOME DISTRICT

DIGGING OUT DOUGLAS STREET, PART OF THE BEECHWOOD IMPROVEMENTS.

The transformation in the topography of that portion of the Twenty-second ward known as the Squirrel hill district, that has been brought about in the past half dozen years, is nothing short of wonderful. Hills have been wiped out and valleys filled, and on the plains and plateaus thus made by man's ingenuity, farseeing real estate men have built lovely homes which have been sold almost as soon as planned. Every move made in the development of the delightful Squirrel hill residence section has been remunerative. Thousands of splendid building sites have been made and occupied and as many more spots in the big ward are to be transformed. The accompanying illustration shows a big steam shovel eating away a hill and loading it on a dinky train to be hauled away and used to fill a yawning gulley. When this work is done what is to be known as Douglas street will run from Forbes street through a handsome section, sites being afforded where both the hills and gulleys formerly existed.

PERSONALS

Henry A. Drollett of Marseilles, France, was a passenger on the Pennsylvania Limited last night. He was on his way to St. Louis for the purpose of giving advice regarding the sanitary construction of the grounds being used for the exposition. The advice of all nations is being sought in this matter, and he represents the French government. Mr. Drollett is much impressed with the American railways. In France, he says, better speed is made than with American trains, but the equipment is not so large. The American locomotives are much more powerful than the French engines, and the cars are longer and more heavily built. The high speed of French trains is the result principally of light equipment and the absence of heavy grades. After completing his mission in St. Louis Mr. Drollett will tour the principal cities of the United States.

There is safety in Ayer's Sarsaparilla. You can trust it even during the wildest storm. It protects, for it prevents. It quiets, for it cures. If you are weak and nervous and are tired all the time, take Ayer's Sarsaparilla and know what it is to be well and strong.

Keep the liver active with Ayer's Pills. Purely vegetable, gently laxative, a great aid to the Sarsaparilla. Ask your doctor about these medicines. He knows. He has the formula. J. C. AYER CO., Lowell, Mass.

EARTHLY BILLS ARE NOT THE ONLY ONES WE OWE

God Is Neglected in the Payment of Debts, Says Dr. Rees.

The Rev. Dr. W. H. W. Rees, pastor of the Smithfield Street Methodist Episcopal church, Seventh avenue and Smithfield street, preached a sermon last night on "Bills Payable." His text was taken from Luke xvi:5, "How much owest thou unto my Lord?" During the course of his sermon Mr. Rees said:

Obligations of our own make a profounder impression upon us than the obligations of others. We are always concerned, or should be, about our debts. Times of panic such as swept the country in 1857 make men tremble lest they be driven to the wall and crushed financially. We dread bankruptcy. But how many there are who would sacrifice all earthly good rather than fail to meet a bill coming due who have never faced their obligation to God, and tonight they are morally or religiously insolvent.

Allow me to present some of the bills you owe to God. This is a beautiful world in which you live. "Sunrises which come blushing o'er the incense breathing morn," sunsets all aflame with golden glory. Clouds dropping down fatness upon the soil. Carpet of emerald hue, decorated with beautiful flowers of exquisite beauty. Birds with rich plumage and song. Rivers, lakes and oceans all beautiful, thrown in in this house of the world. How much do you owe for rent?

You are not only living in a furnished house, but are eating at a well-filled table. Orchards groaning with fruit for you; rivers and lakes full of fish for your table. Cattle and sheep ready to be slaughtered for your meat. How the ends of the earth are laid under contribution for the satisfaction of your appetite. Who pays the bills? Then think how cotton and woolen mills hum with busy life that you may have clothes. The sheep furnishing wool, the field the cotton. The animals the fur and skin, that you may be clothed. Who pays your bills? He setteth the solitary in families. Who thanks God, or can ever pay Him for our children, bright, well-formed and happy that they are?

Ah, my friend, your bills are not all in yet. Who can ever meet his obligation to God for our books? All of which have sprung from the bible. You owe God for the best book the world knows anything about. Can you pay Him? And in that book we are told we are bought with a price the blood of His dear Son. Can you ever pay God what you owe? My friend, meet your obligations to God by accepting forgiveness of Him for all your debt.

RABIES IN CHICAGO.

Situation So Serious That Policemen Are to Be Given Lectures on the Symptoms.

CHICAGO, April 19.—(Special.)—Rabies has reached such dangerous proportions in Chicago that education of policemen in the symptoms of the disease is urged as necessary. Dr. C. A. White, an expert, today volunteered to lecture to policemen on the subject. Dr. A. Lagorio also stands ready to give instructions in the symptoms of the disease. He said tonight:

"The condition in the city undoubtedly is serious. Veterinarians report to me numerous cases of rabies in dogs. I believe the number of cases of "dumb rabies" is increasing greatly, but I am certain that the number of cases of violent rabies has decreased."

PENNSYLVANIA MADE BEST BID

No Longer Wants First United Evangelical Property for Depot.

THAT WAS 10 YEARS AGO

Railroad Had Planned Elevated Tracks to Downtown Terminal. Offers Must Now Come from Realty Dealers.

The congregation of the First United Evangelical Protestant church will take no steps toward leasing its property at Sixth avenue and Smithfield street until after the installation of the officers on the second Sunday in May. When the new board takes control several bids are expected to be formally received. It was stated in the meeting that the noise made by street cars was one reason why it is desired to move farther eastward in Smithfield street. At the annual election of officers yesterday afternoon John Dimling said during an informal discussion of the proposed improvements:

"Like many other members of the congregation, I have sentimental reasons for desiring the old church to stand on its present historic site. The First church is now distinguished and stands with Trinity Episcopal church as two of the most prominent downtown landmarks, but the noise made by the street cars, especially since new curves have been constructed in Sixth avenue, and our services are interrupted to a serious extent.

"Our first offer was received through Attorney A. M. Neeper from the Pennsylvania railroad nearly 10 years ago. This property was then considered by the railroad company to be the best site for its Pittsburgh terminal, it being desired at that time to have the passenger station in the center of the downtown district. An elevated road across Strawberry alley, Seventh avenue and New Grant street was to be used to connect with the main line tracks of the Pennsylvania and the Pennsylvania lines at Eleventh street. This scheme was finally abandoned and it is improbable that any further plans will be made by the railroad company to locate a terminal outside its present boundaries. Our offers must come from the real estate dealers."

There was a large attendance at the election and for an hour or more the churchmen indulged in real estate gossip. It is expected that several bids for the property will be made within a few weeks, as several investors have examined the site.

The election resulted in retaining the Rev. Fr. Rouff for another term of three years in his long pastorate. The other officers elected were: Trustee, three years, Henry Graf; elders, one year, C. M. Guenther, Otto Pregler, Henry Schove, Adam Jahn, Ernest Rictel, Frederick Eberle; wardens, one year, John Kratz, Christ Ludebuhl, W. L. Wittmer, Simon Dimling; school committee, two years, Joseph Eulenstein; cemetery committee, one year, Leonhard Trautmann; teacher, three years, H. Breitenbach.

Yesterday the church opened the Sunday school at its orphan asylum at West Liberty. On Wednesday evening at Central Turner hall, Forbes street, the Smithfield Concordia, connected with the young people's organization of the church, will hold its 12th annual concert.

SPECIAL ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE GRAND OPERA

Trains to Be Held on All Railroads—Carriage Rules at Duquesne Gardens.

Many provisions are being planned for the comfort and convenience of the patrons of the grand opera performances to be given at the Duquesne garden this week by the Maurice Grau opera company, an engagement that will terminate for all time this famous organization. A new sounding board has been placed in Duquesne garden and the place has been generally redecorated, making it in every way more attractive than in past seasons.

The carriage rules provide that before the performance all vehicles must approach from the south, Craig street and Fifth avenue. After the performance carriages will be called from the general direction of Bayard street, and will leave toward the south. Policemen will be on hand to give proper and courteous direction. The trolley service is to be improved for the occasion, a large number of special cars being promised for one hour before and one hour after the performance. No cars will be run on the Ellsworth avenue side of the garden before, during or after the performances.

The railroad companies have consented to hold their trains as follows: Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, No. 21, leaving Pittsburgh at 11:45 p. m., city time; Panhandle train No. 15, leaving Pittsburgh at 11:55 p. m., will be held 45 minutes, as will also New Castle train No. 213, scheduled to leave at 11:20 p. m. Train No. 92 on the Pennsylvania railroad, with service as far east as Greensburg, will be held until 11:50 p. m., passing Shadyside at 11:57 and stopping there to receive passengers. Train No. 19 on the Allegheny division, leaving Union station at 11:35 p. m., will be held until midnight. Late trains on the Monongahela division will be held sufficiently long to admit of passengers reaching the station. Baltimore & Ohio train No. 34, leaving Pittsburgh at 11:30 p. m., and train No. 163, leaving the Pittsburgh & Western station, Allegheny, at 11:30 p. m., will be held until midnight.

KILLED ON A STREET BY A RIVAL LOVER

Girl Failed in Effort to Prevent Fatal Shooting in West Virginia.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MATEWAN, W. VA., April 19.—Last evening George Lizemore, an employe of a lumber company near here, was shot and instantly killed, it is alleged, by William Griffiths, a clerk in the company store. Lizemore, who lived near Dunham, N. C., and Griffiths, were in love with the same girl.

Griffiths met Lizemore on the street in company with the girl last night, and some words were exchanged. Lizemore then started on and had gone hardly a square when he was overtaken by Griffiths, the latter, it is alleged, opening fire without a word. He shot three times, Lizemore falling on the street. The girl, Miss Nora Wooton, who lives in Tazewell, Va., tried to seize Griffiths' revolver to prevent the tragedy, but failed.

Posse Shot a Robber.

ST. LOUIS, April 19.—By means of the rural telephone service in the vicinity of Edwardsville, Ill., 18 miles east of here, a posse of farmers was quickly summoned today to capture two supposed robbers, and in the fight that followed, Frank Charles of Mobile, Ala., one of the two men, was perhaps fatally shot and his companion escaped after a three-mile chase.

Forty-Five Thousand Persons Visit City Parks

Forming in Line Outside the Phipps Conservatories.

Thirty thousand persons visited Schenley park yesterday, and about half that number viewed the attractions at Highland park. Superintendent William Falconer, who retires at the end of the month, was delighted with the interest shown by the public.

E. M. Bigelow, director of public works, who appointed himself superintendent of Highland park Saturday, was there early in the afternoon. The zoo was at its best, for the animals have roused themselves from their winter indolence and the building was filled with the roars of the big cats, the trumpeting of the elephant, the squeaks of the monkeys and the whistling of the elk. The black and the cinnamon and the grizzly bears pranced around with unwonted liveliness, only the polar bear manifesting dissatisfaction with the balmy air of spring, while hoping for cheap ice next summer, although he sought a sunny spot when the superintendent passed his cage. The grass was green and the flowers on the reservoir embankment, while already showing their brilliant colors, gave promise of a greater show next Sunday, when they will all be in full bloom.

At Schenley park the flower show was but little behind the exhibition of Easter day, and the difference was not perceptible to one who had not seen that show. Supt. Falconer had kept specimens of nearly all the flowers in reserve, so that as soon as one plant faded another took its place.

Fully one-third of the sightseers were strangers, for the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh, the Allegheny Valley and the Baltimore & Ohio had run excursions which were patronized by thousands. The excursionists began to arrive in the morning in ever-increasing crowds, and at 2 p. m. they were in greater number. A long line of visitors stood outside the conservatory, awaiting their turn to enter. While the conservatory was taking in and disgorging its thousands, the Carnegie library building was doing the same, for enormous throngs visited the library, museum and art gallery. Crowds filled the music hall to hear Lemare and the famous organ, and then went to the museum and stood in awe-struck wonder before the diplodocus magnificissimus Carnegiensis, whose fossilized bones are on exhibition.

At 2 p. m. the superintendents of the two parks exchanged messages over the telephone, Mr. Bigelow congratulating Mr. Falconer on the pleasure which he had furnished to many thousands, and Mr. Falconer wishing Supt. Bigelow success in his new field.

CHRISTIANS ARE EVER ADVANCING TO GOAL

For Them There Is No Such Word as Backward, Says the Rev. Jayne.

"Now Then, Forward" was the theme of a sermon preached by the Rev. A. Jayne, pastor of the Observatory Hill Christian church, Allegheny, yesterday morning. His text was taken from Acts v.:20, "Go stand in the temple and speak to all people the words of this life." Mr. Jayne said, in part:

For the Christian there is no such word as "backward." There is no order for him to retreat. His work is a forward and advancing work. He who puts his hand on the plow must not look back. The past must be forgotten. Not in the achievements of yesterday are we to find cause for gratulation, but in the possible victories of tomorrow. He who dwells in the yesterdays of life has lost his grip on the todays. He who is satisfied with the accomplishments of today, and believes that all has been done that can be done, will soon be done for this world.

The world today needs men with forward spirit. The spirit of the age is the spirit of progress. In business, science and religion we have swung so far from the past that even the textbooks of 10 years ago are relegated to the rear. This is not saying there is nothing good in the past. People who lived in the past and lived up to their light accomplished much. The past sheds a radiance over the present; but ever is it true—

"New occasions teach new duties,
Time makes ancient good uncouth;
They must upward still and onward
Who would keep abreast of truth."

THE VOICE OF NATURE CALLS US TO WORSHIP

Sermon by the Rev. Thomas Clayton, Pastor of First Congregational Church.

"Voices That Call Us Today" was the topic of a sermon preached by the Rev. Thomas Clayton in the First Congregational church, Allegheny, yesterday morning. His text was taken from Hebrews iv.:7, "Today if ye will hear His voice, harden not your hearts." Mr. Clayton said, in part:

It is His voice that calls us today. It is the voice of Nature calling us to worship the great Creator and Father of all. It is a call that is as old as the "everlasting hills." Men heard it at the beginning of time; some heeded, and others ignored it. The bright splendor of the eastern skies and the gorgeous beauty of the landscape caused the Hebrews to break forth into wondrous song of praise and worship.

Today the same voices call us to woship and praise Him who is filling the land with the beauty of spring. Yet how many have eyes and see not, have ears and hear not. The voice that calls is the gospel of Christ calling us to salvation in the midst of a corupt and dying world. It is the sweetest call that was ever clothed in human language; calling the weary to rest, the thirsty to the living water, the perishing unto the fountain of life. It is an urgent pressing call that men need to hear and obey.

NEEDED THE MONEY.

Students Planned to Kidnap Richard Mansfield if Paymaster Did Not Come.

PEORIA, ILL., April 18.—(Special.)—A hundred students of Bradley Polytechnic Institute, who acted as supers at the performance of "Julius Caesar" by Richard Mansfield at the opera house last night, planned to kidnap him if his manager did not come to the front with their wages. Members of the student crowd were deputized to follow Mansfield after the show.

At 1 o'clock the manager appeared on schedule time with the money bag and the students were paid in full. The boys said they would have taken Mansfield to their club house had they not received their money.

END IS IN SIGHT OF TWO STRIKES

Painters to Go to Work Today Pending Further Negotiations With Employers.

WANT CARFARE PAID

Structural Ironworkers Believe a Settlement Has Been Effected in New York and the Strike Will End Tomorrow.

The strike of the painters is practically off. The men will go back to work today after a strike of seven weeks, and, although the continuance of their willingness to work hinges on the acceptance by the bosses of another one of their demands, it is probable that a compromise on that will be reached and the painters will not strike again.

The old scale was $3 20 for a day's work of eight hours and car fare from the shop to the work. This year the painters asked for $3 60 a day and car fare. The Master Painters' association refused to accede to this demand and the men struck. Negotiations have been going on since then, and on last Saturday the scale committee of the union met the master painters' committee and the latter offered a compromise of $3 40 a day, but no car fare. This proposition was laid before a meeting of the painters' union yesterday, and by a majority vote of 66 the union agreed to the following:

The strikers to go to work today at wages of $3 40 a day, pending negotiations for car fare; the men to continue at work as long as the negotiations last; if the master painters agree to pay car fare the strike to be declared off, but if they decline to accede to this demand the strike is to be renewed.

The painters are a branch of the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers of America. The scale for the decorators and paperhangers had been signed, although members of these two branches have refused to work in shops that had not signed the painters' scale.

Members of the local union of the structural iron and bridge workers expect to go back to work with the American Bridge Company on Wednesday. The union's committee that went to New York on Saturday to confer with officials of the bridge company did not return last night, having stopped off in Philadelphia, but will come today. Officers of the union had a conversation over the long-distance telephone with members of the union in New York yesterday, and were informed that the company had granted all the demands of the men and that the scale would be signed accordingly.

The strike has been on for some time. It was caused by a difference in the interpretation of certain provisions of the scale. The men say that their interpretation has been admitted by the company to be correct, and that in future there will be four men to a riveting gang, the false work in structures will be built by union structural bridge workers and all non-union men will be discharged.

COUNCILS ASKED TO CONTRIBUTE TO EXPO.

Chamber of Commerce Wants City to Have an Exhibit at St. Louis.

The chamber of commerce will ask city councils to make an appropriation for the St. Louis exposition. A meeting of the chamber of commerce will be held this afternoon and the committee appointed to recommend a suitable exhibit for St. Louis is expected to make a report.

The chamber has practically decided upon a raised map of the city, showing its topography, location of streets, rivers, buildings and manufactories and other prominent landmarks. The map will be a clay model of the city and after the St. Louis exposition is over it will be put on exhibition at the Carnegie museum. It will cost about $25,000.

Col. A. J. Logan, president of the chamber of commerce, stated last night that steps to interest the city councils in the matter would be taken at once. Councils will be asked to make an appropriation and the remainder of the amount required will be raised by the chamber of commerce and by private subscriptions.

Venture Was Unprofitable.

Richard O'Rourke, it is said, picked a man's pocket of $12 in a Fifth avenue office. He paid $25 and costs yesterday.

TRACTION COMPANY MOVES TOWARD IMPROVING SERVICE

The Pittsburgh Railways Company, driven to the realization of the woeful condition of its equipment through the recent publications in The Gazette, at last has made a definite step toward improving its service. On Saturday the carbuilding firm of Brill & Co. of Philadelphia was awarded a contract for 150 cars by the local traction company.

The new cars will be added to the rolling stock on the various Pittsburgh and Allegheny divisions, and work on the contract will be begun immediately. The cars should be ready next fall. This will be good news to the patrons of the Spring Garden avenue line, where the cars now in use are literally falling to pieces in the streets. The readers of The Gazette who called the attention of the trolley magnates in letters which have been printed from time to time, will feel some satisfaction in the knowledge that their efforts to secure decent accommodations have not been entirely in vain. When the evil of overcrowding has been relieved the people then will press their requests for a reduction in the fares on night cars and fight for a universal transfer system.

Woman's Corner

The One-inch Collar. The fate which presides over the destinies of what we shall wear, has again decreed that the white linen collar shall be low. This is hailed with joy by the short-necked, chubby girl who has in past years attempted to wear the three-inch collar which fashion demanded. But the long-necked damsel who rather prides herself on her Du Maurier style of head and shoulders, has the appearance of—as a homely old dame put it—having jumped too far through her collar. How we are to even things up so that every style of girl may look equally well is easily solved. Let the girl with the plump one-inch neck wear the narrow collars, and be comfortable and modish, as she could not have been in the higher collars. And the tall scrawny-throated damsel will do well to stick to soft ribbons with the little hemstitched and fagroted turnovers, or try the fancy stocks which are shown in the shops in such numbers. But for the sake of a public which likes to see a well-dressed, pretty woman let her avoid putting the inch-wide collars on a three-inch neck, for such a sight is provocative of mirth, yea, much mirth. Women are too prone to accept and wear a style whether it suits them or not, simply because it is the thing to wear—is in the fashion for that season.

The New Note Paper. There is an exceedingly pretty new style in overland, or continental note paper. It has a beautiful silk finish, and there is a fine cord effect in the paper. This is made in the ordinary shapes, larger sizes of the paper being better for foreign correspondence. Imperial and Gladstone are the names of the shapes in which it comes.

Scotch granite is a mottled paper which came originally from England and which is always more or less popular. Point d'esprit is a paper with an invisible dot which comes in white, gray and blue shades. Point d'esprit it is called from this dot, like that in the net so much used in gowns. It is a new effect of Holland linen. Pongee is still another new paper, after the style of linen lawn. It comes in a grey, blue, white and in an odd pongee shade. In some of the shops this is sold in pads, with envelopes to match. Cheviot vellum is one more paper which is taking the name of one of the dress weaves.

Nice Ways to Serve Potatoes. Making potatoes into cakes forms a nice variation from the ordinary method of serving them. For the following recipe the potatoes must be boiled in their skins. When they are thoroughly cooked remove the skins and rub the potatoes through a sieve. Four large ones make a sufficient quantity for ordinary use. Add two well-beaten eggs and one teaspoonful of salt, then stir in one pint of milk. Sift together one cupful of flour, one cupful of cornstarch and two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Add these to the potato mixture and mix together. If it is too wet, stir in more cornstarch, until the whole forms a soft dough. Roll out on the pastry board and cut into cakes with a round cutter and bake them in a quick oven.

Potato Rissoles.—Boil some potatoes until tender, then mash them; add some finely chopped parsley and onion, season well with salt and pepper, form into balls, flour and fry brown.

Pretty Dinner Gown. A dinner gown included in the trousseau of a bride shows gauging in its most artistic conception.

The material is white habutai silk, combined with narrow insertions of black and white silk lace. The circular yoke of skirt is formed of alternate rows of black and white insertion, running up to a point in the back. From this is hung the gauged skirt, which is broken again at a point about 18 inches from the foot, with another insert of the alternate black and white insertion. A narrow gauging is used to give the necessary flare to the foot of the skirt, and the insertion running up in the back gives a long, sweeping train effect.

The yoke of the bodice is of the insertion in alternate rows, the lower part of gauged silk. The pouched best is outlined by graduated stoles of the insertion, edged with flat folds of black panne. Flat streamers of the insertion, edged with the panne folds, fall the length of the skirt in the back.

A dainty accessory, which will be worn with this costume, is a simple stole of maline, combined with black velvet. It is built from five bands of maline ruching, less than two inches wide, sewed on a plain foundation of the maline and separated by black velvet baby ribbon. The finish is an eight-inch flounce of the maline, headed with a ruching of the black velvet ribbon.

Smart Taffeta Patterns. A new taffeta that is to be used for the ever-popular shirt-blouse dress shows a two-toned effect in dark colors—black with blue or green or dark red—with clusters of almost invisible pin stripes in white at intervals over it. Plain, solid color taffeta will again be used for these stylish toilettes, while the checked patterns are also to be extensively employed. An air of distinction may be given these checked silks by piping the edges of the stitched bands used in trimming with some bright color, red or green being especially effective with either black and white or blue and white.

NOBODY IDENTIFIED THE DEAD BURGLAR

NEW CASTLE, PA., April 19.—(Special.)—The remains of the unknown bank burglar, killed at Wampum yesterday by Henry D. Willoughby, are yet unidentified although a score of people in Ellwood, who viewed them today, believe they recognized in the dead robber the features of a man who formerly worked in the Baker forge works at that place. However, none can name the man. A man who aroused the suspicion of Sheriff Brown was arrested at Ellwood today. He gave his name as William E. Collier of Pittsburgh.

MULTITUDES OF EXCITED AND EAGER BUYERS OUT YESTERDAY.

Talk about feverish and excited people at a plan of lots! No one ever before saw such crowds as were at West Liberty yesterday. Anticipating a rush of people who could not get out during the week, the Pittsburgh Railways Company doubled the number of cars on the West Liberty line. Despite the increased cars hundreds of people were unable to get out. The cars were so crowded people were left standing at every corner. Many walked out and insisted on selecting lots. We hadn't enough salesmen to attend to them. Today we'll be in better shape. Extra cars will be running again. For those unable to get out yesterday we still have about 200 of the choicest lots in the plan unsold. But they won't last long. Drop your work today and go.

LEAGUE GAMES TODAY.

Brooklyn at New York.
Philadelphia at Boston (2 Games).

CINCINNATI, O., April 19.—Although outbatted, the Pirates were not outfielded today and this, combined with the poor umpiring of Emslie, enabled them to win the fourth and last game of the series from the Reds.

The game was the most interesting of the four that have been played and fully 12,000 people saw Pittsburgh pile up six runs, while the locals could only succeed in getting four across the plate. The weather was anything but good, and in the latter part of the game it drizzled continually, but not enough to call the game.

Young Veil started in to pitch for the Pittsburgh team, and did well for five innings. After this the Reds seemed to have solved his delivery to a certainty and were slowly but surely landing on the ball and putting the runs across the plate when Clarke decided that the youngster was due to take a soar skyward, and immediately sent Leever out to warm up.

But the hitting of the Reds was there to stay and Leever could not stop them until he had pitched an inning, then, combined with a rank decision on Umpire Emslie's part, he succeeded in stopping the run-getting and turning possible defeat into victory. This sounds peculiar, inasmuch as the Reds were never in the lead, but it is almost an assured fact, that if Veil had stayed in the box and Emslie had not been given the chance to make his raw decision, the score would have been different, with the champions getting the little end of it.

KELLEY SENT FROM GAME.

But the Reds played bad baseball and Noodles Hahn, while he pitched a good game, succeeded in making a very wild throw with three men on bases in the first inning, and letting two runs come across the plate. Again, in the fifth, a wild throw by Beckley materially helped the score with two more runs.

The first official action of discipline was taken by Emslie in today's game, when he ordered Capt. Kelley out of the game for talking back. His decisions were enough to set an amateur team crazy, but with the three old Baltimore players, Kelley, Seymour and Donlin, it was a wonder that Bob escaped with his scalp. Kelley was cheered as he was going from the field, while Emslie was hissed through the entire game. The runs were made as follows:

Beaumont opened with a single after the Reds had been retired in the first. Clarke drew a base on balls and Leach hit one to Hahn, who threw to third to catch Beaumont, but no one was covering the bag, and the ball went to the left field bleachers, while Beaumont and Clarke came home. Wagner went out at first and Bransfield hit a fly to Morrissey that allowed Leach to score.

The fifth was the scene of the next run making. Beaumont got a lift on Beckley's wild throw. Clarke singled and Leach singled, scoring Beaumont. Wagner fouled out and Bransfield doubled, scoring Clarke and Leach. Ritchey struck out.

REDS SCORE RUNS.

In the sixth Donlin singled but was forced by Seymour. Morrissey walked and Corcoran flied out to Beaumont. Magoon singled, bringing in his men and Bergen singled, bringing in Morrissey, but Magoon overran second and was caught. Hahn singled in the next inning, but was forced by Kelley, who took second on a passed ball, and scored on Seymour's hit. Donlin flied out.

In the eighth Beckley drew a base on balls and Morrissey singled. Corcoran flied out and Magoon hit a fly that went clear of Sebring, but he picked it up in time to throw Seymour out at second, according to Umpire Emslie. Bergen singled and Beckley scored, but Hahn struck out. The score:

HIGH BRIDGE OPENS WITH DIFFERENT GAMES

No Regular Baseball, but Gamblers of All Degrees Have Big Sunday Afternoon.

High Bridge, out the Castle Shannon railroad, the home of Sunday baseball and gamblers, had a grand opening yesterday afternoon. For years this section of Upper St. Clair township has been alive with baseball players who desecrate Sunday by playing match games, and adult and juvenile gamblers.

The Beltzhoover A. C. was to have opened its season of Sunday games yesterday, but the grounds were not to the players' liking and the game was called off. However, this did not deter other teams from playing, and several games were in progress on the different diamonds.

The most salient feature of High Bridge amusements is the gambling. Nobody is barred there in the different games and devices for getting the money of the children and "suckers." Yesterday there were dice games, the red and black, crap games, the shell man and a new game in which a smooth-tongued individual, with a cigar box shaped like a bellows, rolls out two marbles, one red and another black. There were cappers galore. The shell man did not last long, but the fellow who ran a dice game which was patronized by boys, whose ages ranged from 6 to 16 years, did a flourishing business. With this dealer was a capper, who urged the boys on.

The little fellows placed 5 and 10-cent bets and some went as high as 25 cents. Many a little fellow lost all his money and when it appeared as though those who had money left intended to leave the game, a big capper, who looked as though he ought to be at manual labor, placed a bet and raked in the money.

"If you lose 10 cents, boys, you can bet 20 cents," cried the man behind the board. One urchin, who had lost all his money, swore and was admonished by the proprietor. "Don't swear, boys, remember it is Sunday," said he.

Not 10 feet from this game at least half a dozen small white boys with two big negroes, were deeply engaged in an animated game of craps. About half a dozen yards from this game another crap game was in progress, this one being participated in by older boys and men. The shell man found that the crap games and the dice were getting almost all the patronage and he moved up into the crowd of spectators watching a scrub game of baseball.

The fellow who was running the marble game did a flourishing business for a while, being aided in getting the "suckers" by two cappers. The cappers made bets of $10 and less. The games continued until the approach of darkness and many a young boy was sent home minus his spending money.

PLEASED WITH RESULT.

W. and J. Players Save a Few, Did Well Against Bethany.

WASHINGTON, PA., April 19.—(Special.)—The followers of the Washington and Jefferson college baseball team are jubilant as a result of the showing made by the team in the game with Bethany college yesterday. The batting ability of the players was plainly demonstrated, only two men failing to properly connect with the ball. Some of the new men did not handle themselves as well as expected, but with practice they will probably do better work.

Capt. Eckles and Coach Montgomery will endeavor to strengthen the weak points during the practice which will be hard all the week. W. and J. will go to Wheeling Wednesday and play the Central league team of that city.

RITCHEY DOING WELL.

Popular Second Baseman Playing Great Game for Pittsburgh.

The second-base playing of Claude Ritchey for the Pirates has caught the eye of the Cincinnati crowds. Ritchey has been putting up a very fast game at second for so early in the season and in every game played in the series with the Reds he has been cheered by the Cincinnati spectators.

His double play which was participated in by Wagner Friday was one of the fastest plays of its kind ever executed on the Cincinnati field.

LOCAL STUDENTS STAY AT HOME

Hyde Park of Chicago to Represent West at U. of P.'s Relays.

GOOD TRIAL MEET

The relay meet, to be held by the University of Pennsylvania on Franklin field, Philadelphia, on next Saturday, in which the principal high schools and secondary schools of the country will compete, will not find any Pittsburgh or Western Pennsylvania schools entered as contestants. W. U. P., Westminster and Geneva colleges will send relay teams to contest with the collegians, but there will not be one local school team, at least none has as yet announced its intention of entering.

Last year the Allegheny Preparatory school had a team entered and it ran fourth, a very good showing, considering the field in which it competed. The South Division team of Chicago, which won the race last year for the high schools, will not represent Chicago this year.

Hyde Park High school's speedy relay team—Capt. Walter Eckersall, Philip Comstock, Tom Hammond and Norman Barker—will instead represent the west in the mile relay for the high schools of America. Saturday afternoon in an exciting race at Marshall field, Chicago, the Hyde Park team defeated the pick of the west, Lewis institute, Culver Military academy and Morgan Park academy, in the order named. Capt. Eckersall and his boys thereby won the $100 expense money for the trip, given by the University of Chicago.

The time made by Hyde Park was 3:40 2-5, exactly the same as that made last year by the South Division team, which latter won the race at Philadelphia and made a new record at 3:35. Coach Stagg said that with a week's training Hyde Park would equal the record. Capt. Eckersall said: "We are going to try to lower the mark when we get to Philadelphia."

For the first half-mile Saturday it looked as if Hyde Park would surely be beaten by Culver or Lewis institute. This made the race one of the most exciting ever seen at Chicago.

Each team was composed of four men, each man running a quarter-mile. The time by successive quarters, leading at each, was: First, Lewis, :56; second, Culvery, 1:52 4-5; third, Hyde Park, 2:47 1-5; fourth, Hyde Park, 3:40 2-5.

LACROSSE ASSOCIATION IS FORMED BY LOCAL PLAYERS

Two Teams Will Be Organized to Play Games With Best in East.

A meeting of lacrosse enthusiasts was held yesterday afternoon in the Park building. Officers were elected for the new lacrosse association and it was decided to place two teams in the field to play games in Pittsburgh and also to bring some of the big eastern college and athletic teams to this city for a series of games.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Patron, Barney Dreyfuss; honorary patron, F. B. McQuiston; president, Charles Huston; vice president, Richard R. Guy; secretary and treasurer, G. H. Lambe; captains, Jack Shepperd and C. D. Spittal; chairman of committee, J. C. Miller; manager of team, John C. Crammond.

The teams will be composed mostly of Canadian players who were in the Western Pennsylvania Hockey league. There are enough good players in Pittsburgh now to form two fast teams, either one of which is expected to be as strong as any in the east. No regular playing field has as yet been selected, but it is probable that the big games will be played at the Colosseum. Practice will be begun Tuesday evening at Halket and Forbes streets. Practice will be held three times a week until the teams are formed.

Capt. Smith of the London, Ont., lacrosse team arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday and will play on one of the local teams. Other crack Canadian players will be engaged. Any persons wishing to join the association should communicate with G. H. Lambe, 303 Halkett street.

READY FOR SCHEDULE

Otto Maya of Erie to Represent Pittsburgh Track in National Paced Circuits.

BOSTON, April 19.—Arrangements for the season of the national paced circuit were completed at a meeting of bicycle track managers here today. The circuit list, which is now complete, includes Charles River park, Providence, Lowell, Worcester, Revere, Hartford and New Haven, the two last named running alternate weeks; New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Pittsburgh and Atlantic City.

The following list of riders was practically agreed upon with the tracks which each is to represent: Bobbie Walthour, Providence; Harry Elkes, Philadelphia; Joe Nelson, Charles River park; Hugh McLean, Revere; Will C. Stinson, Worcester; Otto Maya, Pittsburgh; Bennie Munroe, Washington; Basil De Guichard, New York; Gussie Lawson, Lowell; Howard Freeman, Baltimore; Jimmie Moran, Atlantic City, with the following list of substitutes: Nat Butler, Floyd McFarland, Louis Mettling, Charlie McConnell and Hardy Downing.

The executive committee will formulate a schedule of races at once. All races will be for three men and each track will hold a race weekly, between June 1 and September 1. The regular paced season will open with races in Baltimore, Washington, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh early in May, but these will not be circuit races.

SMITH ENTERS W. V. U.

Famous School Player to Study Law and Try for Baseball Team.

James Smith of Allegheny left yesterday to enter the University of West Virginia, where he will take up the study of law. Smith is a graduate of Pittsburgh Academy, where he achieved fame among local interscholastics as a first baseman and pitcher on the baseball team. He will try for the team at West Virginia.

Smith is a hard hitter and fast on the bases. He can play a good game at third and it is likely he will play that sack on the W. V. U. team when not pitching, provided, of course, he makes the team, something which is unlikely. Smith was on the Pittsburgh Academy team that won the local school championship two years. Kerr and Comfort, the star battery, are both now on college teams.

Kerr is catching for W. U. P. and Comfort is pitching at Allegheny college. Case Ramsay, shortstop, is playing second on W. U. P. and Jes Mackrell, who put up a nice game at second, may also enter W. V. U.

WILL BRANCH OUT

American Bowling Congress Wants Association in Every City and Town.

DAYTON, O., April 19.—At the meeting of the executive committee of the American Bowling congress, which will begin here next Wednesday, the new plan of organization providing for the formation of local associations in every city and town will be taken up and new rules and regulations outlined, so that the bowlers of the local associations may begin to get in line for the next annual tournament, which will be held in Cleveland, February, 1904.

Cleveland will be represented at the meeting and will make known the amount of prize money that will be bowled for at the annual tournament.

Resolutions drawn up by eastern bowlers at a meeting held in New York city last month, condemning some of the new rules to go into effect on July 1, 1903, will be acted upon.

CHALLENGER SENT TO SOUTHAMPTON

Sir Thomas Lipton Still Has Great Confidence in Shamrock III.

SPARS ARE LIFTED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WEYMOUTH, ENGLAND, April 19.—The two Shamrocks left here today at noon for Southampton. The challenger was towed by the Erin. Questioned as to his future course, Sir Thomas Lipton said he meant to work day and night to get the yacht railroad refitted in time for further trials before sailing for New York. His desire was to avoid a postponement of the races.

Ward, Designer Fife and Capt. Wringe have had a conference and have promised to have the challenger in racing trim again in three weeks. It will be a big job. Designer Fife has condemned the boom, gaff, mast and topsail spars of the yacht and they will all be removed, as will the sails.

The decision against a postponement of the races was reached last night after a long consultation, and this morning Sir Thomas sent the following cablegram to G. A. Cormack, secretary of the New York Yacht club:

"I am pleased to inform you that damage to the Shamrock III. will be righted in three or four weeks. There will be no necessity of considering the question of a postponement. Please communicate this to your committee and also convey my warmest thanks for their expressions of sympathy."

Sir Thomas said he saw nothing in the recent accident to lessen the great confidence he felt in the Shamrock III. "If racing yachts are to be built," he said, "there must be some risk. If we built a vessel as safe as a liner, we might as well keep her at home for any chance she would have of winning the cup."

Designer Fife took the same view. He has never appeared so confident as he is now. Mr. Ward said he was surprised and disappointed at the accident. The screws were the same as those used on the Shamrock II. He explained that every precaution had been taken; over 200 tests had been made of the fittings, and he had had the utmost confidence in every details of this part of the equipment. The body of Collier has not been recovered. Sir Thomas Lipton has offered a reward for its recovery and has made provision for Collier's widow and child.

The wrecked spars of the challenger were lifted to the quay today. Many sightseers were present to view the wreckage. The shell of the mast is of extraordinary thinness, being of 3-16-inch nickel steel. The length of the mast was 155 feet and its greatest diameter 27 inches. That the metal was very tough is evidenced that it had been bent and rebent at various places without breaking. It is believed that the next trial races will take place on the Clyde in a month's time.

SOUTHAMPTON, April 19.—The Shamrock III. has arrived here.

NEWPORT, R. I., April 19.—The yacht Constitution and its attendant barge, in tow of the tug Aries, which left here last night for New London, encountered such thick weather and heavy seas when off Point Judith, that she was compelled to return and anchor in Brentons Cove. The Constitution will go down to New London tomorrow.

STRONG BASEBALL TEAMS

Clubs in Turtle Creek Valley Preparing for a Busy Season.

The East Pittsburgh team has organized with the following players: O'Leary, catcher; Bennett, Kilgore and Bretsnyder, pitchers; Ferguson, first; G. Chambers, second; Bolden, third; Miller, short; Heiser, left; Ravey, middle, and J. Chambers, right. The team is the strongest that East Pittsburgh has had for many seasons. Its first game will likely be with Wilmerding.

The Turtle Creek team is said to beat anything in its makeup that the town has had in its history. It promises to make all the other nines in the Turtle Creek and Monongahela valleys hustle to hold their own, including the proposed Braddock team and the star Homestead aggregation. The makeup of the nine will be definitely decided at a meeting on Tuesday night.

The Wilmerding team will be the crack nine of the Turtle Creek valley this season. It will be the only nine in the valley that will have enclosed grounds. Wilmerding will play its first game next Saturday at Homestead. About $1,500 will be expended on the new park. The Wilmerding team will include Craig and Tom Quinn, catchers; Yank West of Wilmerding and W. W. Coleman of Rochester, N. Y., pitchers; Red Calhoun of the St. Louis Nationals, Harry Jordan of Mapor, William White, Pink Lindsay, Jule Schott of Wilmerding, infielders; Thomas Stoltz of East Pittsburgh, Roy Carnahan, James Beswick and Daniel Gallagher of Wilmerding and J. Elming of East Pittsburgh, outfielders.

ROCHESTER'S CLUB

ROCHESTER, PA., April 19.—(Special.)—The Rochester A. A. team will open its season at Rochester, May 2, playing the Washington and Jefferson college team. Manager A. A. Atterholt has secured a strong team for this year, and expects to win a large majority of the games.

The lineup will be as follows: Shotwell, catcher; Simpson, Weagley and Patton, pitchers; Darragh, first; Lindsay, second; Grove, left; Mathay, middle; East and Fry, right field.

The schedule, so far as arranged, is as follows: May 2, Washington and Jefferson of Washington; May 6, Jamestown, of Jamestown, N. Y.; May 9, Geneva college team of Beaver Falls; May 16, Windsors of Pittsburgh; May 23, Wilmerding; May 30, Westminster college, two games; June 6, Cottages of Pittsburgh; June 12, Duquesnes of Pittsburgh; June 13, Fairbanks of Allegheny; June 27, Casinos of Pittsburgh; June 30, Raven High school of Youngstown, O.; July 11, Orions of Pittsburgh; July 18, Swissvale of Swissvale; July 25, Carnegies of Carnegie; August 8, North Side Athletic club of Allegheny. WATERS ARE FALLING.

Rivermen Expect a Boating Stage for at Least Three More Days.

The rivers are still falling, but the rivermen expect to have a boating stage for the next three days. The coal companies are taking advantage of the rise and are hurrying the empties from down-river points. They expect to get all the empty boats and barges to the different mines before the water recedes too low for navigation.

The stage of water at Davis Island dam at 9 o'clock last night was 10.2 feet and the river was falling.

NOTES OF THE RIVERS.

The Findlay is preparing to leave for a trip to Louisville.

The Mayflower ran two excursions yesterday. Both were well patronized.

The Coal City towboat arrived at the Pittsburgh wharf yesterday afternoon. It brought a load of molasses and a number of empty barges. It left before midnight with a tow for Cincinnati.

The entries for this match are the most expert butchers that could be picked from over half a hundred who sent in entries.

PREACHED HIS INITIAL SERMON

Dr. Partridge Occupied Pulpit in Fourth Avenue Baptist Church.

MAY ACCEPT THE CALL

Decision to Be Made at a Meeting of Trustees Tomorrow Night. Is the Pastor of Largest Baptist Church in Ohio.

The Rev. Dr. Warren G. Partridge, pastor-elect of the Fourth Avenue Baptist church, preached his initial sermon there yesterday morning. One of the largest congregations in the church's history turned out to hear the man they had elected their pastor. The Rev. J. V.

The Rev. Warren G. Partridge, D. D.

Stratton sat upon the platform with Dr. Partridge and read the notices. He formally introduced the pastor-elect to the congregation.

Dr. Partridge made a brief address, thanking the congregation for the call, and stated that he was most flattered by the honor. He said that he was not sure of accepting, but would decide at a meeting of the trustees on Tuesday night. Dr. Partridge is at present pastor of the Ninth Street Baptist church in Cincinnati, which is the largest of the denomination in Ohio. The text of his sermon yesterday morning was taken from Philippians iii:10. Dr. Partridge in part said:

The Bible emphasizes the value of true knowledge of Christ. Eternal life is communicated to a soul by a genuine knowledge of Jesus. This knowledge, however, is not merely theoretical or speculative or intellectual knowledge. It is not head knowledge, but heart knowledge. The Master said, "This is life eternal that ye might know the true God and Jesus Christ whom He hath sent."

Universities and theological seminaries can not impart this saving knowledge of Christ. It is not the knowledge of dogma or creed. It is the spiritual knowledge of a Divine Person. This knowledge of Christ involves a consciousness of Him as our sin-bearer. The agnostics claim that nature knows nothing of forgiveness; materialism claims that there is no such thing in the world as the pardon of sins. But one of the most astounding statements of Christ was that the Son of Man had power on earth to forgive sins. One of the greatest miracles was the sinlessness of Jesus Christ. A personality appeared in history who never had a sinful wish or thought. The apostle Peter was dazzled and exclaimed, "Depart from me, for I am a sinful man."

There must also be a knowledge of Christ's deity. Jesus was not a mere creature. Many today stumble over his mysterious birth. One of His disciples said, "Lord to whom shall we go?" Christ has the word of eternal life. Christ unfolds the glory of God the Father. The apostle Paul also desired to know the power of the resurrection.

The resurrection of Christ was the divine seal of his authority, the pledge of his work of redemption and the prophecy of our future resurrection. Saint Paul also desired to have a knowledge of the fellowship of Christ's sufferings. We can never suffer as Jesus did, but we can have a sense of fellowship with Christ in our trials.

RELIGIOUS NOTES.

Representatives of the Methodist Protestant, Congregational and United Brethren denominations will meet in Pittsburgh on Wednesday for the purpose of discussing the union of the three churches. The meeting will be held in the Methodist Protestant building, No. 422 Fifth avenue at 10 o'clock in the morning.

J. Campbell White, financial secretary of the ways and means committee of the general assembly of the United Presbyterian church, occupied the pulpit in the Sixth United Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh, yesterday morning. Mr. Campbell had just returned from a sojourn in India, coming by way of Egypt and Soudan to inspect mission fields of the denomination.

The congregation of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Parker avenue and Burton street, Braddock, of which the Rev. William Pitt Turner is pastor, is preparing to celebrate the 14th anniversary of the dedication of the church. The services will be held May 24.

The Rev. Charles E. Stanton, pastor of the Linwood Avenue Baptist church, Cincinnati, may receive a call to the pastorate of the Homestead Baptist church. He preached at both services there yesterday. Mr. Stanton is a brother of the Rev. W. A. Stanton, pastor of the Shady Avenue Baptist church, this city.

The Rev. U. S. Bartz, pastor of the Hawthorne Avenue Presbyterian church, Crafton, has been called to the joint pastorate of the churches at Elmsworth and North East. The call to North East will be made official tonight, when the congregation meets, and then Mr. Bartz will decide.

A meeting of members of the supreme council and of the Pennsylvania grand council of the Catholic Mutual Benefit association will be held in the Hotel Henry at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning for the purpose of investigating loans within this state. Meetings will be held tomorrow and Wednesday and on Wednesday night a reception will be held at the hotel.

Jubilee exercises were held in the Providence Presbyterian church, Allegheny, yesterday, in celebration of the church's lifting a debt of $20,000. The Rev. Thomas D. Logan of Springfield, Ill., and the pastor, the Rev. W. A. Kintner, preached the sermons. The church mortgage will be burned at a meeting tonight.

The Fourth Street Methodist Episcopal church, Braddock, last night took a collection amounting to about $1,200. It was announced that the church debt of $1,000 should be cleared and that last night be set aside for a special collection. The congregation responded liberally. The Rev. Titus Lowe is pastor of the church.

The United Presbyterian church of Wilmerding yesterday closed the most successful year in its history. It is free from debt. The following officers were elected: Chairman, W. L. Hankey; clerk, C. A. Rowan; treasurer, John L. Rankin; financial secretary, George S. Brant; trustees, Alfred Bradley and C. A. Rowan; chief usher, Jackson Kerr.

Panama Canal Commissioners Prepare for Exhaustive Investigation of Isthmus.

PANAMA, April 19.—Rear Admiral Walker and the other members of the United States Panama canal commission arrived here yesterday from Colon. They were given a banquet by the director of the canal company, at which Col. Shaler, Consul General Gudger, Mr. Prescott and other prominent Americans on the Isthmus were present.

The assembly of the department of Panama has ended its session. Among other important matters which were settled is the placing of a duty of 25 per cent on all merchandise imported to the Isthmus and the approval of a contract for the lighting of Colon, made with the Colon Electric Illuminating Company. This company was organized in West Virginia. The contract with it was made in 1898, but was suspended a year later by the governor of the department when the revolution broke out.

CONGREGATION OF FIRST CHURCH WORSHIPED IN ALVIN THEATER

The congregation of the First Presbyterian church, Wood street, had to pass by the old edifice yesterday morning and gaze upon its partial dismantlement. They journeyed on to Sixth avenue, below Penn, and entered the Alvin theater, where the church services were held. Last Sunday night the congregation bade farewell to the old structure and arrangements were made for the use of the Alvin. The theater was crowded at both services yesterday and the pastor, the Rev. Maitland Alexander, preached the sermons from the stage. No seats were alloted families in accordance with the custom of holding pews, and each person took the most convenient and desirable vacant chair. In the morning Dr. Alexander's topic was "Modern Rephidim." In the evening he discussed "What profit Is There in Religion?" The Sunday services of the First church will be held in the Alvin theater indefinitely. The weekday services will be held in Grace Reformed church Dithridge and Bayard streets, East End.

TWO STORIES WITH THE SAME SUBJECT

"Hidden Treasure" and "Pearl of Great Value" Discussed by Dr. Prugh.

NEW SERMON SERIES

Popularity of the Lenten Studies Led Reformed Minister to Inaugurate a Succession of Addresses on the Same Subject.

The Sunday evening Lenten sermons preached by the Rev. Dr. John H. Prugh in the new Grace Reformed church, Dithridge and Bayard streets, were so popular that he has decided to preach another series from the same general subject. Last night Dr. Prugh began the new series, preaching on "The Hidden Treasure" and "The Pearl of Great Value." In the course of his sermon Dr. Prugh said:

These two stories have the same object—to exhibit the great value of the kingdom of heaven, and to show how those who recognize its value feel they must have it, whether they have not been looking for it or have long searched for it. Men look at life differently. Some feel quite at home in the world; others feel as though there were no friends in it for them and nothing congenial. Some look upon the world as a playground, while others consider it a battleground. Some are like day laborers, content with the peaceful, happy industry that makes the day's labor easy. Others have the soaring, restless ambition of great merchants. Some men are brought face to face with Christ seemingly by accident. While thinking only of human success in business matters they unexpectedly find that eternal things are theirs. We thought we had simply a 50-foot city lot, a house, a thousand dollars invested, and suddenly we find we have God. We are hoping for larger salary, which means ampler comforts and advantages, and lo! a voice rings through our soul. "All things are yours, for ye are Christ's and Christ is God's."

The second story introduces us to the other higher type of man, the merchantman, the man of great expectations, who starts out with the belief that he is not made for final disappointment, and that the best and highest will some day be his. But whether a man stumbles upon Christ accidentally, or whether in seeking the "highest and best" he comes upon Christ after long search, the all-important thing is that we recognize Christ to be this "pearl of great value." We must make choice anyway. If there is no better pearl, no richer treasure than what we can win by devotion to business and living for ourselves, then that is what we ought to choose. If the world can pay us better than Christ can pay us, then we ought to serve the world. But if Christ was right, if all that is outside His kingdom must perish, if He has gathered into His kingdom everything that is worthy and enduring, then we ought to make that our choice. And we ought to keep before our mind what Christ had in view until we fall in love with it, and until it draws and commands the noblest efforts.

TWO PATHS FOR YOUNG MEN TO CHOOSE FROM

One Leads to Usefulness and Happiness; the Other to Worthlessness and Misery.

At the Union Methodist Episcopal church, Allegheny, last night the pastor, the Rev. D. L. Johnson, preached a sermon on "Some Words to Young Men." He took his text from Proverbs iv:26, "Ponder the path of thy feet and let all thy ways be established." During the course of his sermon Mr. Johnson said:

Two paths invite the feet of every young man. One is the path of wisdom, the other the path of folly. Each young man must take one or the other. There is no middle path. The path of wisdom leads to usefulness and happiness; the path of folly leads to worthlessness and misery. It would seem that all young men should choose the path of wisdom, but observation shows that the path of folly is chosen by many. Why is it that some will run after folly? It is because the path taken is not studied. There is too much thoughtlessness with regard to what the effects of a course may be. What is wise and what is foolish is not always seen at a glance. Vice hides its face behind so many allurements that at the beginning its hideousness is not suspected. Goodness often comes in such modest garb as not to be attractive.

If one would weigh the result of any course in life he is not left without means for doing so. He has the experience of the wise who have observed the effects of conduct upon the lives of those who have lived wisely or foolishly. Those who have chosen the way of wisdom are before him as monuments of integrity. Those who have chosen the path of folly speak to him from prisons, from haunts of vice, from the misfortunes into which wickedness has plunged them and tell how certain sin is to bring ruin. The word of God has been given as a sure guide to those who wish to choose the right path. Let the young man who is determined to lead a life of usefulness enrich his mind by fitting it with a knowledge of the sacred word.

FIVE CHURCHES WERE DEDICATED

Borough Congregations Held Consecration Services—Big Collections Taken.

CORNER STONE IS LAID

Evangelical Lutheran Church in Baldwin Township Will Be Completed Next Fall and Will Cost $10,000.

Five churches, each of a different denomination, were dedicated yesterday. Impressive services were held in the morning, afternoon and evening. In some of the churches large collections were taken, one paying off the entire church debt. The churches are in the boroughs of Bellevue, Wilkinsburg, Homestead, McKees Rocks and Shoenville. The corner stone of a new church in Baldwin township was laid yesterday. All the services were well attended.

At one service a collection of $15,500 was taken, and the Bellevue Methodist Protestant church was dedicated free from debt. The morning services were opened with a prayer by the Rev. J. J. Murray, D. D. The sermon was preached by the Rev. David Jones, D. D., of East Liverpool, O. In the afternoon a fraternal meeting was held at which the Rev. Charles E. Wilbur presided.

The big collection was taken in the evening. The dedication sermon was preached by the Rev. W. H. Gladden, president of the Pittsburgh conference of the Methodist Protestant church. The pastor of the church, the Rev. George Shaffer, D. D., and the Rev. H. L. Eldersiice, president of Westminster Theological seminary, made addresses. Special music was a feature of the service.

LEBANON MAN IN THE PULPIT.

Bishop John S. Mills of Lebanon, Pa., preached the dedication sermon in the First United Brethren church, Wilkinsburg, at 10:30 o'clock. In the afternoon a fraternal meeting presided over by the pastor, the Rev. G. W. Sherrick, was held. The following ministers from Pittsburgh and Wilkinsburg made addresses: The Revs. I. A. Barnes, J. C. Bloomfield, W. F. Silveus, M. M. Patterson, John A. Burnett, J. B. Markward, Paul S. Leinbach, R. C. Wylie, T. N. Eaton, Arthur Smith and F. W. Ware. Bishop Mills preached in the evening.

The concluding services in the consecration of the First Reformed church, Fifteenth and Mifflin streets, Homestead, was held. In the morning the congregation was addressed by the Rev. R. C. Bowling. The Rev. D. S. Fouse, D. D., preached the sermon. The afternoon service was presided over by the Rev. John H. Prugh, D. D., and several five-minute addresses were delivered by city pastors and visitors. At the evening service the Rev. A. C. Dieffenbach preached the sermon. The Rev. M. M. Noaker is pastor of the church.

FORMER CONSUL PREACHED.

The dedicatory sermon at the First Christian church, McKees Rocks, was preached at the morning service by the Rev. Z. T. Sweeny of Columbus, Ind., who was consul to Turkey under President Cleveland. Other services were held in the afternon and evening in charge of the pastor of the church, the Rev. S. Elsen Brewster. This church was organized three years ago. A collection of $10,000 was taken at the services yesterday.

The Rev. William L. McEwan, pastor of the Third Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh, dedicated the new First Slavonic Presbyterian church, Shoenville, in the morning. The dedication took place under the auspices of the Pittsburgh presbytery. The Rev. V. Losa, who was missionary to the church, was installed as its pastor at the evening services.

The corner stone of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, in Brownsville road, near Philips avenue, Baldwin township, was laid yesterday afternoon. The services were under the direction of the pastor, the Rev. F. W. Kohler, D. D. This church is made up of members of the Grace Lutheran church, South Side. The structure will be completed by next fall and will cost about $10,000.

DAY'S SPIRIT IS MISTAKEN

Easter Called "A Travesty on All Things That Are Sacred."

DR. THOBURN'S SERMON

Earthly Costumes Are Allowed to Intercept the Vision of the Seamless Robe—To the True Christian Lent Never Ends.

"The Upward Look" was the topic of a sermon preached by the Rev. Dr. James M. Thoburn, Jr., pastor of the Calvary Methodist Episcopal church, Beech and Allegheny avenues, Allegheny, yesterday morning. The text was taken from Colossians iii:1, "If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above." During the course of his sermon Dr. Thoburn said:

From Ash Wednesday unto Easter Sunday the fashion of the world is decidedly religious. Even non-ritualistic churches are more and more advantaging themselves of the ancient spring fast. The church is given the right of way by "the world, the flesh, and the devil." During the six weeks' truce there is religion in the very air. Even the secular press confesses Christ on Good Friday and Easter. But those blessed days are over for another year, and with multitudes the carnival of God-forgetfulness has reopened for another merry campaign of 46 weeks.

There is a great deal of foundationless joy during Easter. What a travesty of all that is sacred to mistake the spirit of the day, to allow any earthly costume to intercept the vision of the seamless robe, or permit music and flowers or inspiring services to obscure the risen Christ or hide the realities of the resurrection life. To the true Christian Lent never ends. Sin is as hateful to God in May as it is in March.

The significance of Easter is greater than Christmas. Nothing ever occurred on this sepulchral ball of greater moment to the human race than the resurrection of Christ. It declared His diety; was both a prophecy and pledge of our own resurrection, and furnishes to mankind the pattern and power of a more abundant life. In every conversion there is a crucifixion, a death and a resurrection. Whatever happened to Christ as our representative happened to us. The believer "is quickened together with Him." The rebirth means resurrection. Repentance is the first sign of life. An angel rolls away the stone. Faith is life. In its exercise you walk forth from the prison house of sin. Love and prayer are manifestations of life. The saved man is risen with Christ.

There are two elective lines before us—the higher and the lower. Just as Christ rose from the dead and showed Himself alive by many signs, so those who follow Him should awake from "cryptic nightmares," shake themselves from the dust and walk in newness of life. The object of life is to grow. There is an "above" in every mind. Our ideals are above us. When we cease looking up to them, or drag them to us, they become prejudices. The upward look is ever a sign of superiority. He serves the earth best who hath eyes for the skies. Men never knew the shape of the earth till they looked into the sky. When Christians cease to look up they go blind.

It means everything to be a Christian. They who are Christ's, love, live and think differently from those who do not belong to Him. Put Christ into a man's heart and he loses all relish for that which corrupts and degrades. No matter about the profession. It is what you seek that tells the story. "What you are speaks so loud I can not hear what you say." Men always seek to gratify the instincts of the life that is within them. The tendency of your soul is far more vital than the intonation of your creed. The true test of doctrine is character. Disappointed parents grieve over the waywardness of their children. But the children were encouraged to seek the things which are below and then censured for not seeking the things which are above. They were told to aim high in school and college, in society and business, but in religion they were cautioned to aim at random, not too high or not at all.

If you are risen with Christ, live the new life. "Seek the things above." Long to know God better, whom to know is life eternal. Lift your eyes "to the hills whence come your help." Look up! It is everyone's duty to seek for the best things. The Christ life burst through the tomb. The same principle in you will push you past those same warped gates. The saved life is a constant ascension. "Seek the things which are above." Divine brilliants from the treasury of the King. Your character must match your destiny.

Dr. Edward Everett Hale Says Duty Is Not Taught As First Principle.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., April 19.—(Special.)—The Rev. Dr. Edward Everett Hale of Boston, who spoke to the students of Yale today, said "that the children should be trained to obey God was a fundamental tenet in New England years ago, but I am afraid that in the average school now the duty to obey is not presented as a central idea."

CAPITAL AND LABOR MUST JOIN HANDS

Rev. J. W. Hoffman Says This Is the Realization of Christ's Social Ideal.

The Rev. John W. Hoffman, pastor of the California Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, Allegheny, preached a special sermon last night to members of the Royal Arcanum, No. 445. His text was taken from Matthew xxii:39, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." Mr. Hoffman in part said:

In emphasizing the second great command of Jesus we are not to ignore the first. Love for our neighbor finds its true interpretation in love for God. Society needs the second, the individual the first. Any movement for the betterment of the race which ignores the individual is doomed to a most dismal failure. Jesus was a true Saviour because His scheme of living began with the regeneration of the individual, and through the regenerated life permeated the social organization.

The church has most faithfully presented the need of obedience to the first great command of Jesus. From Luther to Moody, individual salvation has been pressed home upon the conscience with all the power of the Spirit. To stop here would be to do violence to the integrity of Christ's conception and teaching. The need of the hour is, therefore, to recover and enforce the social teaching of Jesus; and the need was never greater than in the present. An industrial life is fast making of one blood all nations.

England and Japan are no longer foreign; they touch us. Industry knows neither race nor color. It overleaps all bounds and brings together in one all of every creed and clime. This identification of each with the other as individuals and nations makes most emphatic the necessity of a bond that will develop the noblest type of character and insure the greatest good to the largest number. That bond is to be found in the serious acceptance of Jesus' command, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

The conscientious acceptance of this great truth at once puts us in serving relations with our fellow-men. Love delights to serve. The greatest joy of love is to give—not to get. Acting under this great thought of the Master every man becomes the servant of all. Business comes under the law. Industry must meet it. The vicious principle of competition must yield to the Christian one of co-operation. Property and profit become morally legitimate as they minister to a larger and better service. Capital and labor become harmonious when acting under this social ideal.

But love can not stop with service; it meets sacrifice as readily and cheerfully as it offers the loaf of bread, the suit of clothes or the opportunity for labor. To bring about the social ideal will require sacrifice. "It can't be done" is the cry of those who refuse to measure up to the demands of love. When capital and labor join hands and ascend together the hill of Calvary and there learn what this means, then may we hope to see the realization of the social ideal of Jesus.

SUNDAY'S RUSH HEAVY

In Some Quarters Yesterday's Crowds Gave Indication of the Inadequate Facilities of the Company—Women Walk.

It is not surprising that Pittsburgh strap-holders and bumper-riders are suggesting the raising of funds to give the local traction managers some practical lessons in the trolley business. The Gazette has received letters from patrons in all parts of the city who are willing to subscribe their share toward this public-spirited scheme.

"We should certainly do the traction company and ourselves justice by sending these Pittsburgh railways officials on a tour to Buffalo, Cleveland, Milwaukee and Indianapolis," said an Allegheny strap-holder. "We are not going to be so unjust as to say that the men who are running the local street cars are operating the worst system in the country, simply to make their patrons uncomfortable. Don't you think they would do better if they knew what move to make? The very answer which Supt. John Murphy made to The Gazette indicates that he stands in need of a good traction tutor.

TOUR OF INSTRUCTION.

"Really, I think that they would appreciate the co-operation on the part of the people. Let us raise $1,000 or $2,000, hire a special car and start on a tour of instruction. If the Pittsburgh Railways Company would do this it would be the winner in the end because in other cities they would not only learn how to run a street car system, but they would acquire some knowledge in the matter of economy on a broad-minded scale.

"A shiftless farmer neglects to repair his fences and tides things along by patching boards on here and there. Finally Smith's cows come along, break through the fence and eat up all the farmer's cabbages. The crop is lost and Smith is a bankrupt. Now, what is the farmer to do? He should have repaired his fences properly in the first place. The Pittsburgh Railways Company just now stands in the place of the lazy farmer. Some day it will wish that it had done something toward putting their lines into first-class shape."

WOMEN HAD TO WALK.

The crowds on some of the suburban lines yesterday demonstrated the company's inability to carry the big Sunday traffic, which soon will burden its cars. The Mt. Lebanon line throughout the afternoon was uncomfortably jammed. Some of the East End cars were filled to the bumpers. Women who feared damage to their clothes were obliged to walk.

To print a list of the complaints which have been received at the office of The Gazette would fill several columns. Three East End patrons came into the office last night and stated that while coming to the city on car No. 3187 that fares were collected from them twice by conductor No. 1138 by mistake. When they remonstrated they declared that he refused to return the extra fare, the mistake being made by two members of the party paying for the crowd.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Dear Sir—I have been a reader of The Gazette since coming to this city, eight months ago, and wish to say that the portion of the paper I like best is that in which you fight for better street car service. In my business I have had to live in several cities, large and small, but of all the places I have been the Pittsburgh street car service is the most miserable. The lack of sufficient cars and the narrow and petty system of transfers is certainly the very worst on record. It is not the fault of the men, but of the management. The other day I was on Larimer avenue, East End; got on a car and asked of the conductor if I could transfer down Penn avenue. He said yes, and then refused to give the transfer until the car arrived at Center and South Highland avenues. I asked the reason and was told that was the order. I had to walk back to Penn avenue with others in the rain to continue my journey. I will take up a subscription if the manager will visit Milwaukee, Buffalo, Indianapolis or Cleveland and see how a street car system should be managed.

SUNDAY PARADE GORGEOUS AFFAIR

Easter Glories Bloom With Transcendent Beauty on the Boardwalk.

SEASHORE IS IN VOGUE

Many Costumes Worn on Atlantic City Esplanade Would Represent a Fortune to the Average Man.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Young's Ocean Pier, ATLANTIC CITY, April 19.

This was the first clear Sunday at the shore in 14 weeks and the Easter parade which was prevented last Sunday by the fierce northeast storm, which had raged for a week, was held. There was a rush to the shore yesterday and today with the result that all of the hotels were crowded and the boardwalk presented a scene that filled the hearts of the hotelkeepers with joy.

Though today's parade was an impromptu one it was even more gorgeous than was anticipated. Last week there were many ladies here who had failed to receive their Easter finery. These hailed the rain with gladness. They received their bonnets and dresses during the week and today, with the sun shining bright there was an exodus from the hotel exchanges to the boardwalk.

The dresses worn by women at the seashore are always gorgeous, but those shown today were fabulous creations, the cost of which to many men would be a fortune. It was the latest style for men which attracted most attention, however. The new boardwalk costume for men is minus a vest. It consists of a sack coat and trousers with the second button of the coat fastened and the lapels rolled back. With this a four-in-hand tie of flashy color and extraordinary length is worn. This innovation in spring seashore wear was largely commented upon, and it probably will be the thing here this summer.

SKYSCRAPER BATH HOUSES.

A five or ten-story brick bath house is within the range of possibility at the ocean front. Two big bathing establishments have disappeared since last season and last summer there were not enough bath houses to take care of the bathers. The bathers had to wait for turns to get into the surf. The "sky scraping" bath house will have all its floors divided into bath houses, better in every way than those now used, and they will be reached by elevators.

The cause of the scarcity of bath houses is easily to be learned. At 25 cents for a room and robe, the bath house men find it hard to make a profit in the high cost of the plant. They discovered that money can be made quicker and easier if the property is put to some other commercial use. Therefore, the bath house gives way to the enormous business house. When several years ago it was suggested as a far-off idea that bath houses would go up several stories it was looked upon as an idle dream.

CONDUCTORS EXPECT A LARGE CROWD HERE

Arrangements Going on for the Entertainment of Many Delegates.

Those in charge of the convention of the Order of Railway Conductors of the United States, Canada and Mexico, to be held here 10 days beginning May 12, expect 10,000 visitors in the city during the sessions. Yesterday conductors from all the railroad towns near Pittsburgh were here to learn how matters were progressing, what number of delegates were expected and to promise a large representation from their respective towns. The entertainment committee has been literally swamped with orders for accommodations and all the spare room in the various hotels is being rapidly contracted for. In addition to this, many of the local members are opening their houses for the occasion and will entertain a large number of the visitors.

The Brotherhoods of Locomotive Engineers and Railway Trainmen will make their final reports this week as to what share of the burden of entertainment they will assume, and the various committees of the Ladies' auxiliary say they will be in position to report their entire program not later than the first of next week. The women expect to entertain some distinguished guests as some of the notable men who have signified their intention of attending will be accompanied by their wives. Invitations will be sent out this week to the governors of every state in the union, the president of Mexico and the leading officials of Canada.

RELIGION AND MUSIC AT JAIL SERVICES

Religious services at the county jail yesterday were permitted by Warden Lewis to continue beyond the usual hour, as Mrs. J. Walker Davis had arranged a musical program of considerable merit for the prisoners. Emil Hennig, the well-known 'cello player, rendered a solo and Katherine McAllister, Prof. William A. Davis and Richard Knotts contributed vocal solos. There was also quartet singing by Mrs. Davis, Miss McAllister, W. A. Davis and Mr. Knotts, with Earl Byers accompanist. Mr. James R. Reed had charge of the services.

Still Hunting for His Son.

John W. Moore, yardmaster for the Erie railroad at Akron, O., was in Pittsburgh yesterday, renewing his search for his son, Harry, who disappeared from his home in Akron, November 17 last. Mr. Moore was here on the same errand last January, and then learned that his son, or a lad closely resembling him, had spent a night at a hotel in Allegheny. At that time he could learn nothing further. Later he received an anonymous letter from Monongahela City, in which he was informed that his son was alive and well and that he had a good job. The lad is about 16 years old, has light hair, fair complexion and gray eyes, and makes himself very agreeable to strangers.

IMPORTS REACH BILLION POINT

Remarkable Evidence of Prosperity Presented by Treasury Statistics.

THE TRADE BALANCE

Notwithstanding Exceptional Circumstances the United States Sells More Goods Than She Buys—Progress Shown.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Room 10, Postal Building, WASHINGTON, D. C., April 19.

The imports into the United States exceeded $1,000,000,000 in the 12 months ending with March, 1903. This is the first time in the history of our foreign commerce in which the imports in 12 months have exceeded $1,000,000,000. Prior to 1870 they had never reached as much as $500,000,000 in a single year, and it was not until 1890 that they reached $750,000,000 in value, and now for the first time they have passed the billion-dollar line. Meantime the exports have grown with like rapidity. In the 12 months ending with March, 1903, the total exports were $1,444,786,954, against $1,001,596,683 of imports, giving an excess of exports during the 12 months of $413,190,271. Exports never reached $500,000,000 in a single year until after 1870. In 1880 they passed, for the first time, the $750,000,000 line; in 1892 they, for the first time exceeded $1,000,000,000, and in the 12 months ending with March, 1903, they were $1,414,786,954; and should the exports of April, May and June average as high as those for March, they would bring the total exportations for the fiscal year past the $1,500,000,000 line.

The growth in imports has been especially marked during the past five years. In the 12 months ending with March, 1899, they were $660,000,000 in value; in the 12 months ending with March, 1900, $838,000,000; in the 12 months ending with March, 1902, $902,000,000; and in the 12 months ending with March, 1903, $1,001,596,683. While it is not customary to state the foreign commerce by annual periods ending with March, the fact that the figures just presented by the treasury bureau of Statistics, which cover the 12 months ending with March, 1903, show, for the first time, a total importation of $1,000,000,000 in a 12 months' period justifies a presentation of the figures for an annual period ending with March and covering a term of years.

The following table shows the total imports and exports in the 12 months ending with March, from 1895 to 1903:

Twelve months ending March 31—	Total Imports.	Total Exports.
1895	$704,215,585	$805,720,397
1896	804,901,352	862,731,707
1897	670,941,016	1,028,648,341
1898	721,116,936	1,154,818,432
1899	660,818,871	1,253,563,029
1900	838,781,870	1,352,853,022
1901	807,501,828	1,480,521,013
1902	902,440,030	1,429,083,878
1903	1,001,596,683	1,414,786,954

This increase in importations is chiefly in manufacturers' materials. While the details of the March imports are not yet completed by the treasury bureau of statistics, the figures for February and for the eight months ending with February show a marked increase in the proportion which manufacturers' materials form of the total importations. In the month of February alone manufacturers' materials formed more than 50 per cent of the total imports. Of the total imports of February, 1903, 51.8 per cent were manufacturers' materials, while in February, 1902, only 47.4 per cent were manufacturers' materials. In the eight months ending with February, 1903, manufacturers' materials amounted to $320,000,000, against $270,000,000 in the corresponding months of the preceding year, an increase of $50,000,000, or nearly 20 per cent. In the fiscal year, 1885, manufacturers' materials formed 33 per cent of the total imports; in 1895, 37 per cent; in 1899, 40 per cent; in 1902, 46 per cent; in the eight months ending with February, 1903, 47 per cent; and in the month of February, 1903, 51 per cent.

CONVENTION OF MORMONS

Two of the Speakers Came All the Way from Utah to Attend the Meeting.

The semi-annual convention of the Western Pennsylvania division of the church of the Latter Day Saints, known as Mormons, was held yesterday in the Grand Army hall, Allegheny. Two sessions were held, one in the afternoon and the other in the evening.

Elder G. M. Richards, president of the division, outlined the principles of the church doctrine. He lives at Salt Lake City, Utah, and came here to conduct the convention.

John G. McQuarrie, president of the eastern state mission, located at New York, spoke on the "Evidences of the Divinity of Joseph Smith's Mission."

Elder Clarence Snow of Logan, Utah, an instructor in the agricultural department of the Harvard university, talked on the lives of the Mormon people.

"Tired to death" is the feeling which frequently precedes a collapse. Don't neglect the warning. Dr. D. Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge will remove the obstructions and pave the way to health.

VETO PREDICTED FOR LIBEL BILL

Philadelphia Preachers Think Salus-Grady Measure Will Fail.

FAITH IN PENNYPACKER

The Governor's Fellow-Townsmen Believe That He Will Subserve the Best Interests of the People of the State.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Public Ledger Building, PHILADELPHIA, April 19.

The Rev. Dr. J. G. Walker of the Mansion Baptist church at Fortieth and Fairmount avenue, speaking of the Salus-Grady bill today said:

"Such a bill as this is a direct violation of the principles that form our national government. It is a violation of our constitution, and deprives us of the right of free speech. We, as citizens of this commonwealth have a right to express ourselves as we consider just and honest. Did our men in public life not make such fools of themselves, the press would not need to hold them up to ridicule, and the expression of the press to them would not be hurtful or distasteful. We have just and good libel laws which could meet all emergencies and that would give a just remedy.

"If the public men don't want such picture exhibitions made of them let them stop wrongdoing. The originators of this bill, in my estimation, fear the press. They are afraid of exposure. It is not a question of what is best with them, it is their wholesome fear of the public press and exposure. I do not think that Gov. Pennypacker will sign such a bill. He is not so small a man as to condescend to that which would meet with universal condemnation."

The Rev. Mr. Hughes of Gibbons said: "The masterly ability, penetrating discrimination, quiet courage and unswerving integrity that characterized Mr. Pennypacker as a member of the judiciary of Philadelphia have also distinguished his official conduct as governor. It would be difficult to estimate the extent of evil to the state which he has prevented by his wise council and by the use of the veto power. It remains for him to veto at least one more outrageous measure in the Salus-Grady 'press muzzler.'"

Bishop Ozi Whitaker of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Pennsylvania said: "Parts of the bill are excessively liable to cause great injustice. It is to be hoped that the best interests of the citizens of the state will be considered and the bill vetoed."

Arrested for Arson.

OWENSBORO, KY., April 19.—E. O. Thomas, who was recently discharged from the penitentiary, was arrested today charged with arson, for the burning last night of the Owensboro Trousers Manufacturing Company's plant. The loss was $85,000. There was $70,000 insurance on the stock and $15,000 on the building.

TWO GREAT STEEL FIRMS NEED NO HARMONY DEAL

Boston Story of Attitude of Steel Corporation to Jones & Laughlin Was Far-Fetched.

A Boston dispatch in one of yesterday's papers said that the United States Steel Corporation had abandoned the intention of purchasing the Jones & Laughlins Company, largely because of the inability of the public to absorb more securities of the big steel corporation. The dispatch added that the United States Steel Corporation had entered into a "harmony" deal with the Pittsburgh concern.

With reference to the proposed absorption of the Jones & Laughlins Company by the United States Steel Corporation, it is stated that the proposed deal is in the condition described in The Gazette on a former visit of President Charles M. Schwab to Pittsburgh. Jones & Laughlins had refused to sell to the steel corporation, if the sale meant the acceptance of a large part of the purchase price in securities of the corporation, so that even if the public were able to absorb additional securities of the steel corporation it is hardly likely that it will get the chance to absorb any created by the purchase of the Jones & Laughlins Company.

As for a harmony deal, the news that one had been effected was received with a smile by prominent members of the Jones & Laughlins Company. That concern is practically a somewhat smaller replica of the steel corporation, inasmuch as it has its own ore mines, coal mines, coke ovens, blast furnaces and mills, producing from the raw material to the finished product, so that the Jones & Laughlins Company can meet the corporation on its own ground, if necessary. Besides, the state of the steel business is such that there is room for all manufacturers, situated like the Jones & Laughlins Company, to make money. For these reasons no harmony deal is required. The relations of the two companies are friendly and they always have been so since the organization of the steel corporation.

RAZING OF ALLEGED OLD CZOLGOSZ HOME

A gang of workmen has just completed tearing down the old log house on the Allegheny river bank, at the south end of Natrona, where the Czolgosz family formerly lived, and which had obtained some undesirable notoriety by reason of its having been the boyhood home of the anarchist, Leon Czolgosz, who assassinated President McKinley. The building was an ancient log structure and was becoming much dilapidated. The ground upon which it stood will be used for tracks by the Tarentum Traction Passenger railway, which are being moved back from the dangerous river bank. Since the assassination of President McKinley a great many people visited the house and many relic hunters cut splinters from the old log walls. Leon Czolgosz and his father were formerly employed by the Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Company at Natrona, and were considered industrious and respectable people during their stay in the Allegheny valley for a number of years.

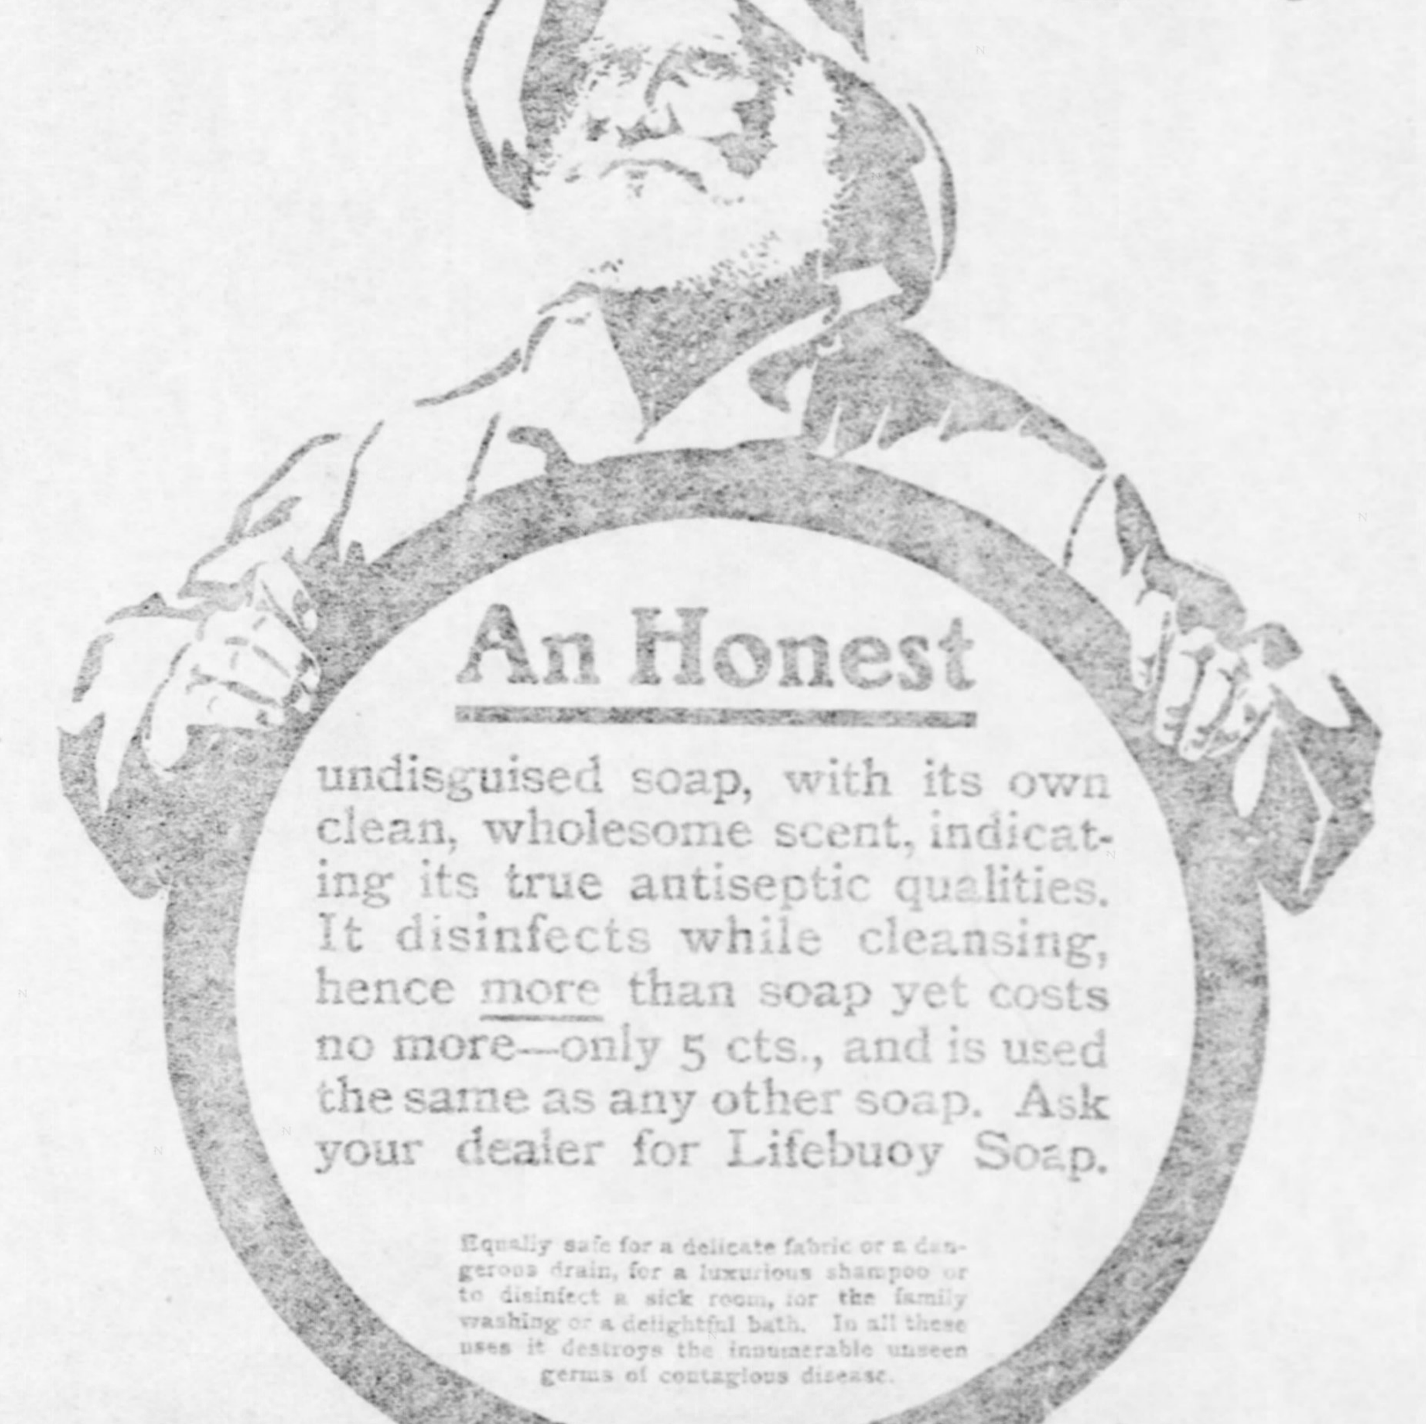
FREEZING TEMPERATURE AT GERMAN CAPITAL

BERLIN, April 19.—The wintry weather in Germany continues. Reports from southern Germany speak of a heavy snowfall in various sections. Fruit trees that already had blossomed have been ruined. A hurricane-like snowstorm swept over eastern Prussia yesterday. Today a terrific gale is blowing over Berlin and there have been driving flurries of snow. The temperature here is 32 degrees Fahrenheit.

POLICEMAN IN FULL UNIFORM ENTERS JAIL AS A PRISONER

Clad in uniform, with shield and keys, Policeman Robert Fitzgerald was marched into jail yesterday with a motley crew of drunks and vags to serve a 10-day sentence. He is one of the newly-appointed patrolmen, and reported for duty at the Oakland station Saturday night in an intoxicated condition. He narrowly escaped being run down by a car in front of the station house, and was only saved by the strenuous exertions of his fellow-officers. Then he started a disturbance and refused to go home when ordered to by the sergeant, so he was placed in a cell and charged with drunkenness. At the hearing Magistrate Negley imposed a fine of $1 and costs, which Fitzgerald was unable to raise, and he was sent to jail for 15 days. About 5 p. m. a friend paid his fine and he was released.

LIFEBUOY



A Clear Sidewalk After a Year of Obstruction.

FOR the first time since April, 1902, you can walk along the north side of Fifth avenue, between Smithfield and Wood streets, without dodging piles of brick and stone, iron beams, hoisting machinery, clouds of steam, whirlwinds of mortar dust, heaps of plank, an army of workmen and all the other incidentals of great building operations. The finishing touches on the new Farmers National Bank Building—our mammoth 27-story neighbor—are so nearly completed that all obstructions will be removed from the sidewalk today, and the current of travel will once again move up and down the north side of the street as in days gone by, with nothing to cause discomfort or danger.

CHAS. M. STIEFF PIANOS

GREATER PITTSBURGH IN THE YEAR 1904

Would Be Modern Utopia If the Rev. Young's Dream Were Realized.

"Whom Do We Want in Greater Pittsburgh," was the subject of a sermon preached by the Rev. S. Edward Young in the Second Presbyterian church, Penn avenue, Pittsburgh, last night. His text was taken from Revelations xxi:27, "There shall in no wise enter into it anything that defileth, neither worketh abomination, nor a lie; but they which are written in the lamb's book of life." Mr. Young said in part:

Dreaming over Pennsylvania senate bill No. 101, passed by both branches of the legislature and awaiting the governor's signature, there rises before us a vision of the Greater Pittsburgh, the city that might be reality New Year's Day, 1904. Three cities, 52 townships and 50 boroughs have consolidated beside and between the Youghiogheny, Monongahela, Allegheny and Ohio, the new metropolis of 850,000 inhabitants ranking as the fourth city of this western hemisphere, its railroads and rivers carrying a traffic tonnage vaster than that of London, Paris, Berlin and Vienna combined, its industrial enterprise making it in sixteen leading manufactures the foremost city of our planet.

Should the phantasy become fact, whom shall we desire within our freshly-formed municipality? The most hopeful element I could imagine would be a company of high-minded young men in each present ward and township and borough of Allegheny county banded together for better government. Let these practical students of politics pledge mutually that they will for a period of years refuse political position or favor, will exclude from their organization any man who gets drunk or gambles or violates the law.

Let them pledge that they will investigate municipal conditions, gather in a local council each month and assemble annually with like societies of the entire county, that they will support only the best men and measures, will furnish literature concerning the sacredness and righteous use of the ballot to the enormous foreign population and will divorce national from local politics.

Without some such civic movement, what does the city's expansion promise, except multiplied poverty and multiplied wealth in large proportions and sharper contrast and ampler opportunity for municipal misrule? With such a federation of our nobler young manhood, I can picture the future Pittsburgh for economy of administration rivalling all the great cities of the world.

Pulmonary Consumption can be cured in its incipiency with Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant. Of that there is no doubt; indeed, numbers of persons testify to having been cured by this remedy after the disease had reached an advanced stage. IT HEALS THE LUNGS.

WALL STREET TAKES AN OPTIMISTIC VIEW

Extreme Consequences of Northern Securities Decision Diminished by Careful Consideration of Conditions.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, April 19.

Wall street, of course, has not heard the last of the Northern Securities decision and is not likely to do so for some time to come, but it is safe to say that the consideration of the subject in the future will proceed along more rational lines of reasoning than those which followed the immediate announcement. That the stock market should have broken violently on Monday is not strange. Rather is it a matter of surprise that it did not break more in consequence of the extremely pessimistic views expressed by President Hill and former Attorney General Griggs as to the effects of the decision upon other properties, which, by a very wide stretch of the imagination, were made to appear as "standing upon all fours" with the Northern Securities Company. Possibly the principle involved in the merger of the Burlington road with the two Northern trans-continental systems, the creation of a combination so organized that it possesses the power to restrain trade, even if it has not exercised it, may be found to exist elsewhere. In few if any instances, however, can as clear a case be made out as that against the Northern Securities Company, and under any circumstances each case must be reviewed separately and stand or fall upon its own merits.

It was to be hoped that Wall street would take the rational, not the extreme view of the disturbing situation. It succeeded in doing so after one day of affrighted liquidation, assisted somewhat by reassuring statements and by supporting orders from interests which have too much at stake to see security prices go to pieces without making some effort to check demoralization and restore order. To what extent the Securities matter has been removed as a disturbing element of the immediate market depends largely upon the outcome of the argument at St. Paul tomorrow to secure a modification of the decree (which enjoins the payment of dividends by the companies) so as to permit a disbursement to shareholders. The promoters of the enterprise in particular, and Wall street in general, would hail with delight a decision favorable to the companies on this point. Yet a decision in favor of the government, while working some temporary hardship to innocent shareholders, might be the means of facilitating the solution of the vexed problem. This can be speedily and effectually accomplished by an acquiescence in the decision of the circuit court of appeals, without waiting for the long-drawn-out process of an appeal to the supreme court.

By some perversion of reasoning Wall street has become imbued with the notion that the country's great prosperity and its continuance is in some way bound up with the railway mergers and industrial combinations of recent years. Rather was it that these things, when carried to the extreme, threatened to overthrow our industrial progress. With them came into existence the false and fraudulent theories of finance which enabled men to capitalize corporations five times over, to inflate stock prices and turn this wind and water into bonds. These were the things which created false standards of value, drew business men and professional men away from their usual avocations, and threatened to turn the community into a race of stock gamblers. To them, carried to the extreme, is due the present situation of congested bank loans, high rates of money to commercial borrowers, extravagant capital creations and inordinate demands for funds by corporations. Lastly, and more important than all else, it were the railway mergers and industrial combinations that flooded the country with the mass of undigested securities, which were the chief sources of Wall street's past and present ailment.

STOCK MARKETS NERVOUS.

Northern Securities Decision Had Influence in London and Berlin.

LONDON, April 19.—Upon resuming after the Easter vacation the stock exchange was nervous concerning the effect of the Northern Securities decision and this, added to the mid-monthly settlement, the rumors concerning Macedonia and the Budget uncertainty depressed prices. In the early part of the week Americans were sold at a lively rate, but it was soon realized that the effect of the Northern Securities decision had been exaggerated and a hardening of prices followed. There was, however, very little doing in any section, with the exception of American and Argentine rails; the latter were strong. Consols were sold down owing, it is thought, to the near approach of the Transvaal loan, which is believed to be a better investment security. Pending the issuance of the Budget on April 23 activity in any direction is not expected, although the week's closing prices throughout the list showed an improved tone.

BERLIN, April 19.—The boerse had an irregular tendency last week. Trading opened on Tuesday under the influence of the Northern Securities decision and rumors that American buyers were attempting to cancel a large order for German pig iron. The latter assertion caused some selling of iron shares, which depressed quotations several points. This rumor, however, was denied with authority and iron as well as coal shares recovered later under the influence of excellent trade reports. The Northern Securities decision and the week on Wall street failed to have a marked effect, inasmuch as London reported higher quotations than New York.

The newspapers devote much space today to a discussion of the American situation. The National Zeitung compares prices on the New York stock market today with those of a year ago to prove that Wall street has not indulged in speculative excesses as has been often asserted in the German financial reviews. This paper concludes its financial article as follows: "Although the business situation in the United States shows greater improvement than a year ago and trust consolidations are more frequent than ever, still the stock exchange has kept cool and the quotations are today considerably lower than this time a year ago. Hence," continues the National Zeitung, "there is no trace of speculative excesses."

The success of the German loan has surprised the most sanguine. It caused heavy buying of the old loan yesterday, which rose 20pfg as a result. General industrials were firm and quiet last week.

One of the most marked features of the week's transactions was the advance in the shares of ocean navigation companies upon improving freight business. North German Lloyds rose 6.65 during the week.

The money market is growing easier. President Koch, at yesterday's meeting of the Reichsbanks central committee, pointed out that the status was somewhat worse than a month ago and said that the outlay in discounts and advance in treasury bills were 201,000,000 marks greater than a year ago. The present metal stock of the bank is 178,000,000 marks less than a year ago. The committee did not discuss the question of lowering the rate of foreign exchange. Rates, however, are tending lower.

Mother-in-Law Threw Bricks.

Mrs. Mary Boyle went to her son's house, Thirteenth and Pike streets, Saturday night, looking for her husband. Not finding him, she quarreled with her daughter-in-law and threw bricks at the front door. She went to the workhouse yesterday in default of a fine of $10 and costs.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF MARKET PRICES

Flour Quotations Advance. Fresh Eggs Very Firm. Strawberries Plentiful.

Except for a slight reduction in the price of No. 1 timothy, due to more liberal receipts, the hay market has remained unchanged for a week and is in a healthy condition. Demand is good and sellers are adhering to quotations in making transactions. Straw has commenced to arrive more freely and the high figures which have ruled for several months are giving way, a decline of 50 cents a ton having been noted several days ago. Shelled corn has remained unchanged, but ear is firmer and higher. Oats have held fairly steady, supply and demand having been well balanced, and the market is unchanged. Rye is strong at quotations. Millfeed just about held its own until Saturday, when increased inquiry and some additional buying gave a slight impetus to the market, causing white middlings to advance.

Flour advanced 10 cents a barrel with the opening of business today. A firmer tone has been apparent for several days and concessions were withdrawn at the close of the week, actual advance coming with this morning. This is due to the higher wheat markets, brought about by the speculative interests in Chicago. Reports have been current of shutdowns of northwestern mills, but so far none of the producers in that section have declined orders and no one is really expecting protracted trouble. A surplus of flour has been in existence for several weeks, which a shutdown will enable millers to work off. It may be that wheat conditions will send prices still higher. Sugar advanced 20 points in the local market and the market seems to be holding steady at the advance. Coffee is unchanged and all other grocery staples are as they were a week ago, so far as prices are concerned.

Strawberries have attracted the greatest attention in the fruit and produce market, largely increased supplies having brought down prices. North Carolina berries are coming in freely, while Alabama stock, which was held back earlier in the season, has commenced to arrive and low quotations have prevailed. Potatoes and apples are unchanged, although fanciest apples are firmer. Cabbage is more plentiful, stocks having commenced to accumulate again, and prices are lower. Onions are firmer. Cucumbers have declined. Lettuce is lower. Peas are in better supply and reduced quotations prevail. So far as reported, recent frosts have not done material harm to home produce and crops are coming on rapidly.

Butter went off a cent a pound last Monday, owing to increased supplies, as milk is more abundant, and the market has been quiet. New cheese comes in daily, but receipts are light and prices are unchanged. Eggs are in moderate supply only and prices hold their own well. On Saturday some sales were made at figures slightly above quotations, but actual market values may be reported as they were on Friday, with the situation firm.

Poultry has maintained its position without fluctuation and no decline in prices has come. Supply and demand are evenly balanced and dealers have readily disposed of all receipts.

IN THE OIL FIELDS.

With all the activity that prevails in the lower southwest fields featureless best expresses the results of the efforts during the week just closed. The increasing desire and demand for new producing territory continues and where it can be found is as much of a mystery as at any time in the past two years. That new fields have not been brought to light has been no fault of the operator, for he has not only searched diligently within the well-known producing limits, but has carried his investigations far beyond the old established producing lines. Success has not attended these explorations except in a limited degree and these were nothing better than small congested pools, somewhat promising at first, but more or less expensive in the end.

With the deep sand territory fully developed the source of any considerable quantity of new production will become a problem difficult of solution, as applied to West Virginia and southeastern Ohio. In past years new pools in the shallow sand district have been discovered and for a brief period attracted attention, but in a few months they had been disposed of and then the deep sand territory again became the mainstay of the production. They have been worked to the limit and are no longer capable of meeting the requirements. With the passing of the Folsom development and the Pine Grove extension in Wetzel county it looks now as though the end shall have been reached.

The larger portion of the new production is now coming from the Gordon sand and the Folsom district is completing more wells than any other in the lower southwest. The Pine Grove district has not yet reached the zenith of activity or its production. With Folsom more fully developed holders of territory in the extension will turn their attention to the latter and the same energy will be directed toward developing this field. After this a forecast at this time would be the wildest kind of a guess. Small pools and spurs to the other fields are a certainty, but it is equally certain that they will not be sufficiently productive to meet the demand for high grade crude. In the opinion of many the market, under the existing conditions, should be advanced, but even then it is an open question whether or not there would be a greater effort made to discover new fields. In years past the old fields could be relied on to help out when new territory was not in sight, but they have been worked to the limit and the wells no longer respond to shooting or by cleaning them out increase their yield.

There is a class of work that may bring satisfactory results to a limited degree in the lower southwest, just as it has in the Speechley sand district in Butler county.

In the old Fairview district in Marion county, West Virginia, an effort has been made for more than a year to open a fifth sand pool by drilling down old wells, and starting new, to the fifth sand. This was formerly a Big Injun development, the lower sand not being regarded as productive. The first experiments were not very encouraging, but quite recently some very good wells have been found in this sand and they will no doubt stimulate operations. Like the Speechley sand wells in Butler county they possess excellent staying qualities, and in the end this is a most profitable territory to operate.

Several gas companies are extending their lines into West Virginia and have begun operations on an extensive scale. A test for gas is also a test for oil and it is possible that some new oil pools may result from these explorations.

Southeastern Ohio is very much in the same condition as West Virginia. There seems to be nothing to look for in the future but small pools and they are growing extremely scarce. Belmont and Monroe counties hold out more inducements than any other. The first named will be subjected to a very thorough testing during the year and all that is left untested in Monroe county will not be worth considering. In the shallow sand districts in Washington county there is considerable activity and some good producers are found in several localities.

Southeast of the old Ricards Mills district there is an effort making to develop a new pool and the outlook is quite promising. The oil in this locality is found in the Keener sand.

In Morgan county, in the very shallow sand territory, operations have declined and the field seems to have been pretty thoroughly worked over. In the Plum run district in Harrison county there is no longer any hope for extending the producing area and the wells now coming in are very small, not averaging more than five or six barrels a day at the start. In the Knoxville pool in Jefferson county, one good producer inside of defined limits and two dusters outside and in advance of developments, were completed during the week. This is another development that has been fully defined.

The local fields are painfully quiet and nothing that has the appearance of a new pool is in sight. In Beaver county and across the state line in Hancock county, W. Va., the Turkeyfoot extension has been worked out and operations have fallen off more than a half in the past three months. In other parts of the county, where efforts have been made to extend old pools or open new, more than 20 per cent of the wells have come in dusters.

TIMELY WARNING!

The Old Way

In olden times one might spend hours in searching through thousands of dollars' worth of miscellaneous reference books to find the particular bit of information that this latter-day system (The New Chambers' Encyclopaedia) would enable him to find in a moment.

The system may at first seem complex, but it is really very simple.

Any conceivable topic may be found in its alphabetical position, and, at the bottom of each article, will be found references to any other articles that one may want to turn to in order to make a really exhaustive study of that particular topic.

Notice to Gazette Readers

SATURDAY, APRIL 25th

AT 6 P. M.

We will close the publisher's club offer to furnish the New Chambers' Encyclopædia at wholesale price in small payments, after which time no sets can be had for less than full price cash. BEGINNING TOMORROW THE SALE WILL CONTINUE

The New Way

It is universally conceded that system is essential to great and continued success in any line of endeavor.

Men who become rich and stay rich have to thoroughly systematize their business methods to avoid errors and losses, and to operate economically.

System is nine-tenths of the secret of their success. And there are the very reasons why every one needs The New Chambers' Encyclopædia and Atlas.

This marvelous work, in ten large, handsome volumes, is a systematization of all reference books and all knowledge. It is a whole library in itself.

FOR SIX DAYS ONLY

During the Next Six Days Only you can secure the Complete New Edinburgh Edition of the Chambers' Encyclopædia upon the payment of One Dollar Cash. The balance of the wholesale price can be paid in small monthly payments—about Six Cents per day. Then the regular price will prevail. Then the easy payment plan will be discontinued. Then the Joseph Horner Book Company and the publishers will profit by the advertising that will result from these 1,500 advertising sets. Then thousands of progressive people who read this announcement will regret that they were not just enough more progressive to have been one of the first buyers. Bear in mind that it takes but One Dollar to have the entire set of ten volumes delivered at your home or office, and that you will then have a whole month before the next payment of Two Dollars will be due. You may think that "just now" you can not afford such an investment, but two months from now you will be in better shape. Don't lose sight of the fact that Three Dollars will be the total outlay during the first two months. Send in the blank printed below. Send it today.
